II. IMPORTANT NOTICE

No person is authorised to give any information or to make any representation not contained in this Base Prospectus and any information or representation not so contained must not be relied upon as having been authorised by or on behalf of the Issuer. Neither the delivery of this Base Prospectus nor any sale made in connection herewith shall, under any circumstances, create any implication that there has been no change in the affairs of the Issuer since the date hereof or the date upon which this Base Prospectus has been most recently amended or supplemented or that there has been no adverse change in the financial position of the Issuer since the date hereof or the date upon which this Base Prospectus has been most recently amended or supplemented or that the information contained in it or any other information supplied in connection with the Securities is correct as of any time subsequent to the date on which it is supplied or, if different, the date indicated in the document containing the same.

Neither this Base Prospectus, any Final Terms nor any other information supplied in connection with the offering of the Securities (a) is intended to provide the basis of any credit or other evaluation or (b) should be considered as a recommendation by the Issuer that any recipient of this Base Prospectus, any Final Terms or any other information supplied in connection with the offering of the Securities should purchase any Securities. Each investor contemplating purchasing any Securities should make its own independent investigation of the financial condition and affairs, and its own appraisal of the creditworthiness of the Issuer. Neither this Base Prospectus nor any other information supplied in connection with the offering of the Securities constitutes an offer or invitation by or on behalf of the Issuer, to any person to subscribe for or to purchase any Securities.

Each potential investor in the Securities must make their own assessment as to the suitability of investing in the Securities. In particular, each potential investor should:

- (i) have sufficient knowledge and experience to make a meaningful evaluation of the Securities, the merits and risks of investing in the Securities and the information contained in this Base Prospectus;
- (ii) have access to, and knowledge of, appropriate analytical tools to evaluate, in the context of its particular financial situation, an investment in the Securities and the impact the Securities will have on its overall investment portfolio;
- (iii) have sufficient financial resources and liquidity to bear all of the risks of an investment in the Securities, including where the currency for principal or interest payments is different from the potential investor's currency;
- (iv) understand thoroughly the terms of the Securities and be familiar with the behaviour of any relevant financial markets; and
- (v) be able to evaluate (either alone or with the help of a financial adviser) possible scenarios for economic, interest rate and other factors that may affect its investment and its ability to bear the applicable risks.

The investment activities of certain investors are subject to legal investment laws and regulations, or review or regulation by certain authorities. Each potential investor should consult its legal advisers to determine whether and to what extent (i) Securities are legal investments for it, (ii) Securities can be used as collateral for various types of borrowing and (iii) other restrictions apply to its purchase or pledge of any Securities. Financial institutions should consult their legal advisers or the appropriate regulators to determine the appropriate treatment of Securities under any applicable risk-based capital or similar rules. The Securities are governed by Latvian law and any disputes arising in relation to the Securities shall be settled exclusively by the courts of the Republic of Latvia in accordance with Latvian law.

DISTRIBUTION OF THE BASE PROSPECTUS AND SELLING RESTRICTIONS

The distribution of this Base Prospectus and any Final Terms may in certain jurisdictions be restricted by law, and this Base Prospectus and any Final Terms may not be used for the purpose of, or in connection with, any offer or solicitation by anyone in any jurisdiction in which such offer or solicitation is not authorised or to any person to whom it is unlawful to make such offer or solicitation. No actions have been taken to register or qualify the Securities, or otherwise to permit a public offering of the Securities, in any jurisdiction other than the Republic of Latvia. The Issuer expects persons into whose possession this Base Prospectus or any Final Terms comes to inform themselves of and observe all such restrictions. The Issuer does not accept any legal responsibility for any violation by any person, whether or not a prospective purchaser of the Securities is aware of such restrictions. In particular, this Base Prospectus and any Final Terms may not be sent to any person in the United States, Australia, Canada, Japan, Hong Kong, Singapore or any other jurisdiction in which it would not be permissible to deliver the Securities, and the Securities may not be offered, sold, resold, transferred or delivered, directly or indirectly, in or into any of these countries.

The Securities have not been, and will not be, registered under the U.S. Securities Act 1933 (as amended) (the "Securities Act"), or with any securities regulatory authority of any state of the United States. This Base Prospectus or the Final Terms are not to be distributed to the United States or in any other jurisdiction where it would be unlawful. The Securities may not be offered, sold, pledged or otherwise transferred, directly or indirectly, within the United States or to, for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons (as defined in Regulation S under the Securities Act (the "Regulation S")), except to a person who is not a U.S. Person (as defined in Regulation S) in an offshore transaction pursuant to Regulation S.

The Bank of Latvia (in Latvian - Latvijas Banka), as competent authority under the Prospectus Regulation, has approved this Base Prospectus. However, in relation to each member state of the European Economic Area (the "EEA") (except the Republic of Latvia), the Issuer has represented and agreed that it has not made and will not make any public offer of Securities prior to that EEA member state's authority receiving a certificate of approval of the Bank of Latvia attesting that the Base Prospectus has been drawn up in accordance with the Prospectus Regulation together with a copy of the Base Prospectus.

Accordingly, any person making or intending to make an offer within the EEA of Securities which are the subject of an offering contemplated by this Base Prospectus and the relevant Final Terms (other than the offer of Securities in the Republic of Latvia) may only do so in circumstances in which no obligation arises for the Issuer to publish a prospectus pursuant to Article 3 of the Prospectus Regulation or supplement a prospectus pursuant to Article 23 of the Prospectus Regulation, in each case, in relation to such offer.

MIFID II PRODUCT GOVERNANCE/TARGET MARKET: The Final Terms in respect of any Securities will include a legend entitled "MiFID II Product Governance" which will outline the target market assessment in respect of the Securities and which channels for distribution of the Securities are appropriate. Any person subsequently offering, selling or recommending the Securities (a "distributor") should take into consideration the target market assessment; however, a distributor subject to MiFID II is responsible for undertaking its own target market assessment in respect of the Securities (by either adopting or refining the target market assessment) and determining appropriate distribution channels.

A determination will be made in relation to each issue about whether, for the purpose of the MiFID Product Governance rules under EU Delegated Directive 2017/593 (the "MiFID Product Governance Rules"), any Dealer subscribing for any Securities is a manufacturer in respect of such Securities, but otherwise neither the Arrangers nor the Dealers nor any of their respective affiliates will be a manufacturer for the purpose of the MIFID Product Governance Rules.

IMPORTANT – EEA RETAIL INVESTORS – The Securities are intended to be offered, sold or otherwise made available to, and should be offered, sold or otherwise made available to retail investors in the EEA. For these purposes, a retail investor means a person who is one (or more) of: (i) a retail client as defined in point (11) of Article 4(1) of MiFID II, (ii) a customer within the meaning of Directive (EU) 2016/97 (as amended or superseded), where that customer would not qualify as a professional client as defined in point (10) of Article 4(1) of MiFID II; or (iii) not a qualified investor as defined in the Prospectus Regulation. Consequently, key information document required by Regulation (EU) No 1286/2014 (the "PRIIPs Regulation") for offering or selling the Securities or otherwise making them available to retail investors in the EEA.

III. OVERVIEW OF THE PROGRAMME

The following overview does not purport to be complete and is taken from, and is qualified in its entirety by, the remainder of this Base Prospectus and, in relation to the General Terms and Conditions of any particular Series of Securities, the applicable Final Terms. This overview must be read as an introduction in conjunction with the other parts of the Base Prospectus (including any documents incorporated therein). Any decision to invest in the Securities should be based on a consideration by the investor of the Base Prospectus as a whole.

Words and expressions defined in the General Terms and Conditions of the Securities below or elsewhere in this Base Prospectus have the same meanings in this overview.

This overview constitutes a general description of the Programme for the purposes of Article 25(1) of the Delegated Regulation.

The Base Prospectus should be read and construed together with any supplement hereto and with any other documents incorporated by reference herein, and, in relation to any Securities and with the Final Terms of the relevant Securities.

SIA "VIAINVEST Assets" (the "Issuer"), a limited liability company (Sabiedrība ar ierobežotu atbildību) established under the laws of the Republic of Latvia, subject to compliance with all relevant laws, regulations and directives, may periodically issue asset-backed securities (the "Securities or Security") on the terms set out herein, as completed by final terms (each such final terms, the "Final Terms"). The aggregate principal amount of Securities outstanding will not at any time exceed EUR 50,000,000 (fifty million euro). The Securities will be issued periodically, as from approval of the Bank of Latvia, in several series (the "Series") and the sole purpose of issuing each Series will be to finance the acquisition of the claim rights towards the borrowers-individuals with respect to the repayment of the principal and accrued interest arising from consumer loan portfolio originated by a limited liability company Sabiedrība ar ierobežotu atbildību "VIA SMS" (the "Loan Originator"), pursuant to a cooperation agreement (the "Cooperation Agreement") between the Distributor, the Issuer and the Loan Originator.

The Securities shall be backed by the consumer loans originated by the Loan Originator. Prior to the issuance of each Series of Securities the Issuer shall purchase the claim rights towards the Loan Originator's borrower (the "Underlying Borrower") for the repayment of the principal and accrued interest arising from consumer loans originated by the Loan Originator (the "Underlying Loan") in such amount that fully corresponds to the amount of the Securities that are to be issued within the particular Series of Securities (the "Underlying Portfolio"). Also, to secure the Securities, Pledge Agreement is concluded between the Issuer and the Loan Originator for loan receivables. These shall serve as the assets that are backing the Securities. The Loan Originator shall always keep a skin-in-the-game worth at least 5% of each Underlying Loan. This is done to ensure that the Loan Originator's interests are aligned with the Securityholders.

Each Security issued within a certain Series of Securities shall be linked to a separate pool of at least 10 or more Underlying Loans (the "Pool of Loans") and pay a fixed interest rate to the owners of Securities (the "Securityholders"). Certain characteristics and behaviour of the Securities like start date and end date, as well as cash flows shall be linked to the Pool of Loans. If any of the Underlying Loans are repaid in full or in part, the same is done by the Issuer with respect to the Securities that are linked to the corresponding Pool of Loans. If any of the Underlying Loan repayments are delayed or extended, then a special procedure as set-out by this Base Prospectus takes place.

Each Security shall have a nominal value and a maximum maturity that matches the maturity of the corresponding Pool of Loans. Each Pool of Loans shall be linked to a finite number of Securities depending on the nominal value of the Pool of Loans. This shall among other things be defined within the relevant Final Terms. An exception for the matching maturity is the case if an Underlying Loan reaches 60 days past due, as then the Early Mandatory Redemption event as described below occurs. Please see the section Maturity and Redemption. This is done in order to ensure that the Issuer is not exposed to any credit risk towards the Underlying Portfolio, except in a way that such credit risk may affect the financial standing of the Loan Originator. The interest rate of the Security shall be fixed and independent from the interest rates of the Underlying Loans and shall be defined within the relevant Final Terms.

The Loan Originator shall not derecognize the Underlying Portfolio from its balance sheet, because the risks and rewards associated with the Underlying Portfolio as well as the obligation of buy-back the defaulted part of Underlying Portfolio in circumstances as prescribed by present prospectus shall remain with the Loan Originator, therefore, the Issuer will use net proceeds from the issuance for the payment for the purchase of the Underlying Portfolio to be made by the Issuer to the Loan Originator according to the terms and conditions defined by the Cooperation Agreement. The interest income and the principal repayments received from the Underlying Borrowers with respect to the Underlying Portfolio shall be recognized by the Loan Originator. The principal amount with respect to the Underlying Portfolio shall be transferred from the Loan Originator to the Issuer or Distributor if so instructed by the Issuer in the form of repayment of the claim rights in line with the Cooperation Agreement. In addition to the principal the Loan Originator shall pay interest on the claim rights in at least such amount that the Issuer shall pay the interest on the Securities. The difference between the interest on the Underlying Portfolio and the interest on the Securities shall remain as the income of the Loan Originator. This way the Issuer has the legal ownership of the Underlying Portfolio without assuming the risks and rewards associated with it, because they shall remain with the Loan Originator, which in turn allows to achieve that the Securities mirror the behaviour of individual Underlying Loan combined in Pools of Loans, while the credit risk exposure of the Securityholders is towards the Loan Originator, not the individual Underlying Borrowers.

In each case where amounts of principal and interest are stated to be payable in respect of a Series of Securities, the Issuer has an obligation to make any such payment to the Securityholders only if and in such amount as the corresponding payment has been received and retained (net of tax and all other deductions whatsoever) by the Issuer from the Loan Originator. The Issuer will have no other financial obligation under the Securities.

Except as set forth herein, payments in respect of the Securities will be made without any deduction or withholding for, or on account of, the taxes of any relevant jurisdiction, except as required by the laws of the Republic of Latvia. Please see section X. TAXATION

The Securities may be redeemed early at the option of the Issuer in certain circumstances, all as more fully described in the Cooperation Agreement and Terms and Conditions of the Securities as described below.

The price and amount of the Securities to be issued under the Programme will be determined by the Issuer (as defined below) at the time of issue in accordance with prevailing market conditions.

The Base Prospectus has been prepared in connection with the offering of the Securities pursuant to the requirements of the Regulation (EU) 2017/1129 (the “Prospectus Regulation”), the Financial Instruments Market Law (in Latvian - Finanšu instrumentu tirgus likums). The Bank of Latvia as competent authority under the Prospectus Regulation has approved this Base Prospectus. Bank of Latvia only approves this Base Prospectus as meeting the standards of completeness, comprehensibility and consistency imposed by the Prospectus Regulation. Such approval should not be considered as an endorsement of the limited liability company SIA “VIAINVEST Assets”, SIA “Viainvest” (the “Distributor”), Sabiedrība ar ierobežotu atbildību “VIA SMS”, nor as an endorsement of the quality of any Securities that are the subject of this Base Prospectus. Investors should make their own assessment as to the suitability of investing in the Securities.

The Base Prospectus is valid for a period of twelve months from the date of approval. The obligation to supplement the Base Prospectus in the event of significant new factors, material mistakes or material inaccuracies does not apply when the Base Prospectus is no longer valid.

Investment in the securities to be issued under the programme described in this Base Prospectus involves certain risks. Prospective investors should carefully acquaint themselves with such risks before making a decision to invest in the Securities. The principal risk factors that may affect the Issuer's ability to fulfil its obligations under the Securities are discussed in Section "Risk Factors" below.

Under no circumstances shall this Base Prospectus constitute an offer to sell or the solicitation of an offer to buy, nor shall there be any sale of the securities in any jurisdiction in which such offer, solicitation or sale would be unlawful.

This Base Prospectus has been delivered to you in an electronic form. You are reminded that documents transmitted via this medium may be altered or changed during the process of electronic transmission and consequently none of legal persons related to this Base Prospectus or any director, officer, employee or of any of them, or any affiliate of any such person accepts any liability or responsibility whatsoever in respect of any difference between the Base Prospectus distributed to you in electronic format and the hard copy version available to you on request.

IV. RISK FACTORS

Below is the description of risk factors that are material for the assessment of the market risk associated with the Securities and risk factors that may affect the Issuer's or Loan Originator's ability to fulfil its obligations under the Securities.

Any of these risks could have a material adverse effect on the financial condition and results of operations of the Issuer. Investors could lose all or part of their investments.

Potential investors should carefully consider the specific risk factors outlined below in addition to all other information in this Base Prospectus and consult with their own professional advisors should they deem it necessary before deciding upon the purchase of the Securities. In addition, investors should bear in mind that several of the described risks can occur simultaneously and those have, possibly together with other circumstances, a stronger impact. Additional risks, of which the Issuer or Loan Originator is not presently aware, could also affect the business operations of the Issuer, the Loan Originator and have a material adverse effect on the Issuer's and Loan Originator's business activities and financial condition and results of operations.

In each category below the party sets out first the most material risks, in its assessment. The assessment of the materiality of each risk factor based on the probability of its occurrence and the expected magnitude of its negative impact is disclosed by rating the relevant risk as low, medium or high.

As at the date of this Base Prospectus, the Issuer and the Loan Originator are the subsidiaries of AS "VIA SMS group", the entity operating according to the Latvian law under registration number 40003901472, (the "Group"), therefore risk factors could overlap.

Potential investors should, among other things, consider the following:

1. Risk factors relating to the Issuer

The Issuer's management considers the following list to be as comprehensive as can reasonably be expected and does not consider there to be any significant risks other than those outlined herein, given the current operating environment and without prejudice to any new or highly unusual and unexpected events taking place.

1.1. Issuer is dependent upon the information technology systems to conduct its business operations

The Issuer's operations are significantly dependent on highly complex information technology ("IT") systems.

Moreover, the IT strategy is based on utilising, in the Issuer's view, the most sophisticated technologies and solutions available on the market. Therefore, the Issuer intends to continue making substantial investments in the IT systems and to adapt its operations and software to support current and future growth. The Issuer is required to continually upgrade its global IT system, and any failure to carry out such upgrades efficiently may result in the loss or impairment of its ability to do business or in additional remedial expense. In addition, there can be no assurance that the Issuer will be able to keep up to date with the most recent technological developments due to financial or technical limitations. Any inability to successfully develop or complete planned upgrades of IT systems and infrastructure or to adapt its operations and software may have a material adverse effect on Issuer's business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

Risk rating: Medium.

1.2. The Issuer's business depends on services provided by third parties

The Issuer outsources certain IT services, such as data centre, IT development services and technical support. To issue to Security the Issuer uses ISIN codes which are provided by Nasdaq CSD. The Issuer uses banks to perform its payments transactions. The Issuer uses the Group as an operational service provider to perform operational services such as business development, risk assessment, financial analysis, legal support, and accounting.

Any inability to maintain existing business relationships with third-party providers or the failure by these third-party providers to maintain the quality of their services or otherwise provide their services to the Issuer may have a material adverse effect on its business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

Risk rating: Medium

1.3. The Issuer's business is subject to complex and evolving laws and regulations regarding privacy, data protection, and other matters

Issuer's business is subject to a variety of laws and regulations internationally that involve user privacy issues, data protection, advertising, marketing, disclosures, distribution, electronic contracts and other communications, consumer protection and online payment services. This may have a material adverse effect on its business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

Although the Issuer continuously educates its employees on applicable laws and regulations in relation to privacy, data protection and other matters, the Issuer cannot guarantee that its employees will comply at all times with such laws and regulations. If its employees fail to comply with such laws and regulations in the future, the Issuer may become subject to fines or other penalties which may have a negative impact on its reputation and may have a material adverse effect on its business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

Risk rating: Low.

1.4. The Issuer is a subject to cyber security risks and security breaches and may incur increasing costs in an effort to minimise those risks and respond to cyber incidents

Issuer's business involves the storage and transmission of customers' proprietary and personal information, and security breaches could expose us to a risk of loss or misuse of this information, litigation and potential liability. The Issuer is entirely dependent on the secure operation of its websites and systems, and the websites and systems of the data centre providers, as well as on the operation of the internet generally. While the Issuer has not incurred any significant cyber-attacks or security breaches to date, a number of other companies have disclosed cyber-attacks and security breaches, some of which have involved intentional attacks. Attacks may be targeted at the Issuer, its customers and/or its data centre providers. Although the Issuer and its data centre providers devote resources to maintain and regularly upgrade its systems and processes that are designed to protect the security of its computer systems, software, networks and other technology assets and the confidentiality, integrity and availability of information belonging to the Issuer, there is no assurance that these security measures will provide absolute security. Despite Issuer's efforts to ensure the integrity of its systems and data centre providers' efforts to ensure the integrity of their systems, effective preventive measures against all security breaches may not be anticipated or implemented, especially because the techniques used change frequently or are not recognized until launched, and because cyber-attacks can originate from a wide variety of sources. Actual or anticipated attacks and risks may cause the Issuer to incur increased costs, including costs to deploy additional personnel and protection technologies, train employees or engage third party experts and consultants.

The Issuer's servers are also vulnerable to computer viruses, physical or electronic break-ins, and similar disruptions, including "denial-of-service" type attacks. The Issuer may need to expend significant resources to protect against security breaches or to address problems caused by breaches. In addition, many of the third parties who provide products, services or support to the Issuer could also experience any of the cyber risks or security breaches described above, which could impact Issuer's customers and business and could result in a loss of customers, suppliers or revenue.

Any of these events could result in a loss of revenue and may have a material adverse effect on Issuer's business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

Risk rating: Low.

2. Risk factors relating to the Loan Originator

2.1. The Loan Originator may face difficulties in assessing the credit risk of potential customers

Despite the Loan Originator's credit scoring models, it may be unable to correctly evaluate the current financial condition of each prospective customer and determine his or her creditworthiness. The Loan Originator's financing decisions are based partly on information provided to it by applicants. Prospective customers may fraudulently provide it with inaccurate information upon which, if not alerted to the fraud, the Loan Originator may base its credit scoring. Any failure to correctly assess the credit risk of potential customers, due to failure in the Loan Originator's evaluation of the customer or incorrect information fraudulently provided by the customer, may have a material adverse effect on the Loan Originator's business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows and may even invoke regulatory sanctions (including imposition of fines and penalties, suspension of operations, or revocation of the licences).

The Loan Originator utilises a variety of credit scoring criteria, monitors the performance of its loan portfolios and maintains an allowance for estimated losses on loans and advances (including interest fees) at a level estimated to be adequate to absorb expected credit losses. The Loan Originator's allowances for doubtful debts are estimates and if circumstances or risks arise that the Loan Originator does not identify or anticipate when developing the credit scoring model, the level of its non-performing assets and write-offs could be greater than expected. Actual losses may materially exceed the level of the Loan Originator's allowance for impairment losses, which may have a material adverse effect on its business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

In addition, factors beyond the Loan Originator's control, such as the impact of macroeconomic trends, political events or adverse events affecting the Loan Originator's key jurisdictions, or natural disasters, may result in an increase in non-performing assets. The Loan Originator's allowances for doubtful debts may not be adequate to cover an increase in the amount of non-performing assets or any future deterioration in the overall credit quality of its total portfolio. If the quality of the Loan Originator's total portfolio deteriorates, the Loan Originator may be required to increase its allowances for doubtful debts, which may have a material adverse effect on its business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

Risk rating: Medium.

2.2. The Loan Originator is exposed to the risk that its customers or other contractual counterparties may default or that the credit quality of its customers or other contractual counterparties may deteriorate.

The risk of counterparty default is defined as the potential negative deviation of the actual counterparty risk outcome from the planned one. This includes the risk of default on consumer loan payments as well as on repayment. The deviation in outcome occurs when the actual loss exceeds the expected loss due to changes in internal credit ratings or credit losses.

The quality of credit risk is influenced by, among other factors, customers' financial strength and general macroeconomic conditions. In order to assess the level of credit risk, the Loan Originator uses its proprietary credit scoring system that provides it with an objective basis to evaluate a potential consumer loan (see above "The Loan Originator may face difficulties in assessing the credit risk of potential customers").

The Loan Originator has implemented detailed procedures in order to contact delinquent customers for payment and debt recovery. However, there is still the risk that the Loan Originator's assessment procedures, monitoring of credit risk, maintenance of customer account records and repossession policies might not be sufficient to prevent negative effects for its operations.

Further credit risks could arise if the Loan Originator's management would decide on a higher risk tolerance without compensating for it in the form of sufficient additional revenue. For instance, the acceptance policy for consumer loans contracts could be adjusted to a riskier approach. This could lead to the situation that the credit risk would increase, but the planned income from the additional business could not compensate for the additional risk related costs. As a consequence, the Loan Originator's operational results could be adversely affected.

However, the outbreak of the virus COVID-19 (known also as SARS-CoV-2) has had negative impact on the overall economic and financial situation due to the measures applied for restraining the spread of the virus (including, among others, quarantine and other restrictions to the free movement of people, shut down of businesses, etc.). The COVID-19 pandemic has significantly influenced the business and increased exposure to counterparty credit risk. The continued spread of the virus COVID-19 may result in application of additional restrictive measures by governments. This in turn could deteriorate even further the financial health of the borrowers, the credit quality of loans and volume of non-performing loans, which in turn could result for the Loan Originator to make provisions which could have a material adverse impact on the financial position. Although the Loan Originator makes provisions for potential credit losses in accordance with the applicable requirements (including in compliance with the IFRS requirements), such provisions are made based on the available information, estimates and assumptions, which by definition are subject to certain amounts of uncertainty. The uncertainty regarding the sufficiency of the provisions made is significantly higher, considering the potential further spread of the COVID-19 pandemic and its impact on the global economic and financial condition. Materialization of the counterparty credit risk may have a material adverse effect on the Loan Originator's operations, financial condition, and results of operations, and thereby on the Loan Originator's ability to make the payments in accordance with the Securities Terms and Conditions.

Risk rating: Medium.

2.3. The Loan Originator is dependent upon the information technology systems to conduct its business operations

The Loan Originator's operations are significantly dependent on highly complex IT systems. The underwriting process is mainly performed automatically by IT systems developed internally and used at various stages of the underwriting process, including customer registration, application, identification and credit scoring. In addition, bank transfers are completed online and reminder emails and invoices are automatically processed and sent to customers. If any IT system at any stage of the underwriting process were to fail, any or all stages of the underwriting process could be affected and customer access to the Loan Originator's websites and products could be disrupted. Any disruption in the IT systems would prevent customers from applying for loans, which would hinder the Loan Originator's ability to conduct business and have a material adverse effect on its business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

Moreover, the Loan Originator's IT strategy is based on utilising, in its view, the most sophisticated technologies and solutions available on the market. Therefore, the Loan Originator intends to continue making substantial investments in the IT systems and to adapt its operations and software to support current and future growth. The Loan Originator is required to continually upgrade its global IT system, and any failure to carry out such upgrades efficiently may result in the loss or impairment of its ability to do business or in additional remedial expense. In addition, there can be no assurance that the Loan Originator will be able to keep up to date with the most recent technological developments due to financial or technical limitations. Any inability to successfully develop or complete planned upgrades of the IT systems and infrastructure or to adapt its operations and software may have a material adverse effect on the Loan Originator's business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

Risk rating: Medium.

- 2.4. The Loan Originator's business depends on services provided by third parties such as banks and payment institutions, local consumer credit agencies, IT service providers and debt-collection agencies

The Loan Originator advances loans to customers and collects repayments from customers through local bank and payment accounts. It's continuing relationships with the banks and payment service companies with which the Loan Originator maintains accounts are critical to its business.

The Loan Originator contacts consumer credit agencies and uses other publicly available data sources to verify the identity and creditworthiness of potential customers. In addition, every application is verified through one or more credit bureaus. Should access to such information be restricted or disrupted for any period of time, or if the rates the Loan Originator is charged for access to such information should significantly increase, the Loan Originator may not be able to complete automatic customer identity and credit scoring checks in a timely manner or at all. This could impede the Loan Originator's ability to process applications and to grant loans, and/or increase its cost of operation.

The Loan Originator also outsources certain IT services, such as data centre and technical support, to third-party providers. The Loan Originator outsources certain services to the Group to perform operational services such as IT development, marketing, legal support.

The Loan Originator outsources the collection of debt to debt-collection agencies. The loss of a key debt-collection agency relationship, or the financial failure of one of the Loan Originator's core debt-collection agency partners, could restrict the Loan Originator's ability to recover delinquent debt, and there is no guarantee that it could replace a strategic debt-collection agency partner in a timely manner or on favourable terms.

Any inability to maintain existing business relationships with banks, local consumer credit agencies, IT service providers, debt-collection agencies and other third-party providers or the failure by these third-party providers to maintain the quality of their services or otherwise provide their services to the Loan Originator may have a material adverse effect on its business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

Risk rating: Medium

- 2.5. The Loan Originator's current interest rate spread may decline in the future, which could reduce the profitability

The Loan Originator earns a substantial majority of its revenues from interest payments and fees on the loans it makes to the customers. The Group, financial institutions and other funding sources could provide the Loan Originator with the capital to fund these loans and charge interest on funds that the Loan Originator draws down. In the event that the spread between the rate at which the Loan Originator lends to its customers and the rate at which the Loan Originator collects the funds decreases, the Loan Originator's financial results and operating performance will suffer. The interest rates the Loan Originator charges to its customers and pay to its fund suppliers could each be affected by a variety of factors, including access to capital based on its business performance, the volume of loans the Loan Originator makes to the customers, competition and regulatory requirements. These interest rates may also be affected by a change over time in the mix of the types of products the Loan Originator sells to the customers and investors. Interest rate changes may adversely affect the Loan Originator's business forecasts and expectations and are highly sensitive to many macroeconomic factors beyond the Loan Originator's control, such as inflation, the level of economic growth, the state of the credit markets, changes in market interest rates, global economic disruptions, unemployment and the fiscal and monetary policies of the jurisdictions in which the Loan Originator operates. Any material reduction in the interest rate spread could have a material adverse effect on the Loan Originator's business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

Risk rating: Medium.

2.6. The Loan Originator's ability to recover outstanding debt may deteriorate if there is an increase in the number of the customers facing personal insolvency procedures

Various economic trends and potential changes to existing legislation may contribute to an increase in the number of customers subject to personal insolvency procedures. The ability to successfully collect on the Loan Originator's loans may decline with an increase in personal insolvency procedures or a change in insolvency laws, regulations, practices or procedures, which may have a material adverse effect on its business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

Risk rating: Medium.

2.7. The Loan Originator's business is subject to complex and evolving laws and regulations regarding privacy, data protection, and other matters

The Loan Originator's business is subject to a variety of laws and regulations internationally that involve user privacy issues, data protection, advertising, marketing, disclosures, distribution, electronic contracts and other communications, consumer protection and online payment services. The introduction of new products or the expansion of the activities may subject the Loan Originator to additional laws and regulations. In addition, the application and interpretation of these laws and regulations are often uncertain, particularly in the new and rapidly evolving industry in which the Loan Originator operates, and may also be inconsistent with the Loan Originator's current or past policies and practices. Existing and proposed laws and regulations can be costly to comply with and can delay or impede the development of new products, result in negative publicity, increase the Loan Originator's operating costs, require significant management time and attention, and subject it to inquiries or investigations, claims or other remedies, including demands which may require the Loan Originator to modify or cease existing business practices and/or pay fines, penalties or other damages. This may have a material adverse effect on the Loan Originator's business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

Although the Loan Originator continuously educates its employees on applicable laws and regulations in relation to privacy, data protection and other matters, it cannot guarantee that its employees will comply at all times with such laws and regulations. If the Loan Originator's employees fail to comply with such laws and regulations in the future, the Loan Originator may become subject to fines or other penalties which may have a negative impact on its reputation and may have a material adverse effect on the business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

Risk rating: Low.

2.7. Damage to the Loan Originator's reputation and brand or a deterioration in the quality of its service may impede its ability to attract new customers and retain existing customers

The Loan Originator's ability to attract new customers and retain existing customers depends in part on the brand recognition and the reputation for and delivery of high-quality services. The Loan Originator's reputation and brand may be harmed if it encounters difficulties in the provision of new or existing services, whether due to technical difficulties, changes to its traditional product offerings, financial difficulties, regulatory sanctions, or for any other reason. Damage to the Loan Originator's reputation and brand, or a deterioration in the quality of its service, may have a material adverse effect on the Loan Originator's business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

Risk rating: Low.

2.8. The Loan Originator's business depends on marketing affiliates to assist it in obtaining new customers

The Loan Originator is partially dependent on marketing affiliates as a source for new customers. Its marketing affiliates place Loan Originator's advertisements on their websites, which, in turn, direct potential customers to Loan Originator's websites. As a result, the success of Loan Originator's business depends substantially on the willingness and ability of marketing affiliates to provide its customer leads at acceptable prices.

The failure of the Loan Originator's marketing affiliates to comply with applicable laws and regulations, or any changes in laws and regulations applicable to marketing affiliates or changes in the interpretation or implementation of such laws and regulations, could have an adverse effect on Loan Originator's business and could increase negative perceptions of its business and industry. Also, certain changes in Loan Originator's online marketing affiliates' internal policies or privacy rules could limit the Loan Originator's ability to advertise online. Additionally, the use of marketing affiliates could subject us to additional regulatory cost and expense. Any restriction on Loan Originator's ability to use marketing affiliates may have a material adverse effect on its business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

Risk rating: Low.

2.9. The Loan Originator is a subject to cyber security risks and security breaches and may incur increasing costs in an effort to minimise those risks and respond to cyber incidents

The Loan Originator's business involves the storage and transmission of customers' proprietary and personal information, and security breaches could expose it to a risk of loss or misuse of this information, litigation and potential liability. The Loan Originator is entirely dependent on the secure operation of its websites and systems, and the websites and systems of the data centre providers, as well as on the operation of the internet generally. While the Loan Originator has not incurred any significant cyber-attacks or security breaches to date, a number of other companies have disclosed cyber-attacks and security breaches, some of which have involved intentional attacks. Attacks may be targeted at the Loan Originator, its customers and/or Loan Originator's data centre providers. Although the Loan Originator and its data centre providers devote resources to maintain and regularly upgrade its systems and processes that are designed to protect the security of the computer systems, software, networks and other technology assets and the confidentiality, integrity and availability of information belonging to the Loan Originator and its customers, there is no assurance that these security measures will provide absolute security. Despite the Loan Originator's efforts to ensure the integrity of its systems and its data centre providers' efforts to ensure the integrity of their systems, effective preventive measures against all security breaches may not be anticipated or implemented, especially because the techniques used change frequently or are not recognized until launched, and because cyber-attacks can originate from a wide variety of sources. These risks may increase in the future as the Loan Originator continues to increase its internet-based product offerings and expand its internal usage of web-based products and applications. If an actual or perceived breach of security occurs, customer and/or supplier perception of the effectiveness of the Loan Originator's security measures could be harmed and could result in the loss of customers, suppliers or both. Actual or anticipated attacks and risks may cause the Loan Originator to incur increased costs, including costs to deploy additional personnel and protection technologies, train employees or engage third party experts and consultants.

The Loan Originator's servers are also vulnerable to computer viruses, physical or electronic break-ins, and similar disruptions, including "denial-of-service" type attacks. The Loan Originator may need to expend significant resources to protect against security breaches or to address financial information problems caused by breaches. Security breaches that result in the unauthorised release of customers' personal information could damage Loan Originator's reputation and expose it to a risk of loss or litigation and possible liability. In addition, many of the third parties who provide products, services or support to the Loan Originator could also experience any of the cyber risks or security breaches described above, which could impact Loan Originator's customers and its business and could result in a loss of customers, suppliers or revenue.

Any of these events could result in a loss of revenue and may have a material adverse effect on the Loan Originator's business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

Risk rating: Low.

3. Risk factors relating to the Securities

- 3.1. Relevant insolvency and administrative laws may not be as favourable to creditors, including Securityholders, as insolvency laws of the jurisdictions in which the Securityholder is familiar and may limit his ability to enforce his rights under the Securities and the Issuer and the Loan Originator is subject to risks relating to the location of their centre of main interest

The insolvency laws of the jurisdictions where the Issuer and the Loan Originator are incorporated or organised jurisdictions may not be as favourable to investors' interests as creditors as the bankruptcy laws of certain other jurisdictions and investors' ability to receive payment under the Securities may be more limited than would be the case under such bankruptcy laws.

In case of Issuer's insolvency Securityholders have the right as other creditors of the relevant group to receive the payment of the outstanding principal amount of the Securities and the interest accrued on the Securities according to the relevant laws governing the insolvency process of the Issuer. There are no direct contracts or other transaction documents concluded with the Securityholders, which would clearly define the subordination of the claims of Securityholders to other unsecured obligations of the Issuer. However, the Cooperation agreement concluded between the Loan Originator, the Issuer and the Distributor shall define, among other, terms and conditions all claims arising from these Securities are subordinated to other claims of the Issuer. Furthermore, according to the Cooperation agreement the Issuer shall confirm that the Issuer will not perform any action which would impact the status of the Securities, i.e., the subordination of the claims arising from the Securities over other outstanding claims.

Risk rating: Medium.

- 3.2. Securityholders may face liquidity gap by investing in the Securities

The cash flow of the Securities is mirrored with the cash flow of Underlying Loans. The Underlying Borrower might fail to make scheduled payments, although according to the Cooperation Agreement signed between the Loan Originator, the Distributor and the Issuer, the Loan Originator will perform interest payments in case of any delay in the Underlying Borrower's payment schedule. In case if the Loan Originator does not fulfil its obligations according to the Cooperation Agreement and does not make any payments, the Securityholders could face a liquidity gap especially if they rely only on payments from the investing in Security.

The Securities are sold over-the-counter and the Securityholders should take into account that there may be difficulties in selling the Securities on the Platform. Neither the Issuer, nor any other person guarantees the minimum liquidity of Securities.

Risk rating: Medium.

3.3. Securityholders may face early redemption of the Security

The cash flow of the Securities is mirrored with the cash flow of Underlying Loans and the Underlying Borrower may repay the principal amount at any time or the Underlying Loan agreement might also be cancelled by the parties, which ensures early redemption of the Securities. If prevailing rates are lower at the time of redemption, investors may not be able to reinvest the redemption proceeds in a comparable security at an effective interest rate as high as the interest rate on such Securities being redeemed, and the real return on the investments could be lower than the initially planned return.

Risk rating: Medium.

3.4. Securityholders may face foreign exchange risks by investing in the Securities

The Securities will be denominated and payable in EUR. If investors measure their investment returns by reference to a currency other than EUR, an investment in the Securities will entail foreign exchange-related risks due to, among other factors, possible significant changes in the value of the EUR relative to the currency by reference to which investors measure the return on their investments because of economic, political and other factors over which the Issuer has no control. Depreciation of the EUR against the currency by reference to which investors measure the return on their investments could cause a decrease in the effective yield of the relevant Securities below their stated interest rates and could result in a loss to investors when the return on such Securities is translated into the currency by reference to which the investors measure the return on their investments.

Risk rating: Medium.

3.5. Risk of Conflicts of Interest

The Loan Originator, the Issuer and the Distributor are acting in a number of capacities in connection with the transaction of Securities issuing. They will have only the duties and responsibilities expressly agreed by them in its respective capacity and will not, by virtue of acting in any other capacity, be deemed to have any other duties or responsibilities or be deemed to be held to a standard of care other than as expressly provided with respect to each such capacity. These companies, in their various capacities in connection with the transaction, may enter into business dealings from which it may derive revenues and profits without any duty to account therefore in connection with the transaction of Securities issuing.

In particular, The Issuer may hold and/or service receivables other than the Underlying Portfolio. The interests or obligations of the Issuer with respect to such other receivables may in certain aspects conflict with the interests of the Securityholders. This may especially be the case if the Issuer holds and/or services other receivables in addition to the Underlying Portfolio, where such originator becomes insolvent. In such a case, the interests of the Issuer, the Group or its affiliates may differ from, and compete with, the interests of the Securityholders. Decisions made with respect to such other receivables may adversely affect the value of the Underlying Portfolio and therefore, ultimately, the ability of the Issuer to make payments under the Securities.

Risk rating: Medium.

3.6. The Issuer may choose to redeem the Securities when prevailing interest rates are relatively low, including in open market purchases

The Issuer may seek to redeem the Securities from time to time under an Early Mandatory Redemption or Early Voluntary Redemption right provided under the Terms and Conditions, f.i. when prevailing interest rates are lower than the rate borne by such Securities. If prevailing rates are lower at the time of redemption, investors may not be able to reinvest the redemption proceeds in a comparable security at an effective interest rate as high as the interest rate on such Securities being redeemed.

Risk rating: Low.

3.7. The Securities will be structurally subordinated to all indebtedness

Within the process of securitization, there is an established special purpose vehicle (SPV) whose purpose is to ensure that assets legally are separated from the Loan Originator, hence the related risks. However, the Underlying loan portfolio from accounting perspective will not be derecognized from the balance sheet of the Loan Originator.

In case of indebtedness of the Issuer, the Security holders in relation to assets-backed loan Securities will be able to approach the Loan Originator directly with appropriate request to settle the liabilities deriving out of the Securities.

The Issuer by its assets can be liable towards its creditors for the process of securitization only.

Risk rating: Low

2. Authorisation

The creation and issue of the Securities has been authorised by a decision VIA-2023-07-SD of the shareholders of the Issuer dated June 29, 2023.

3. Hyperlinks

The content of any website referred to in this Base Prospectus by hyperlinks is for information purposes only, does not form part of the Base Prospectus (with the exception of hyperlinks to the electronic addresses where information incorporated by reference is available) and has not been scrutinised or approved by the Bank of Latvia.

4. Forward-looking statements

This Base Prospectus includes forward-looking statements. All statements other than statements of historical facts contained in this Base Prospectus, including, without limitation, those regarding the Issuer's future financial position and results of operations, its strategy, plans, objectives, goals, targets and future developments in the markets in which it participates or is seeking to participate and any statements preceded by, followed by or that include the words “anticipate”, “believe”, “continue”, “could”, “estimate”, “expect”, “forecast”, “aims”, “intends”, “will”, “may”, “plan”, “should” or similar expressions or the negative thereof, are forward-looking statements. Such forward-looking statements involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors which may cause the Issuer’s actual results, performance or achievements, or industry results, to be materially different from any future results, performance or achievements expressed or implied by such forward-looking statements. Certain forward-looking statements may prove wrong, although being reasonable at present. Furthermore, there are a lot of risks and uncertainties related to the Issuer’s business because of which a forward-looking statement, estimate or forecast may prove wrong. Thus, the investors should urgently read the sections “Risk Factors”, “Information about the Issuer”, “Information about the Loan Originator”, which contain a detailed explanation of the factors, which influence the business development of the Loan Originator and the market, in which the Loan Originator is active.

In consideration of the risks, uncertainties and assumptions the future events mentioned in the Base Prospectus may not occur.

Further, any forward-looking statement speaks only as of the date on which it is made, and the Issuer undertakes no obligation to update any forward-looking statement to reflect events or circumstances after the date on which the statement is made or to reflect the occurrence of unanticipated events. New factors will emerge in the future, and it is not possible for the Issuer to predict which factors they will be. In addition, the Issuer cannot assess the effect of each factor on its business or the extent to which any factor, or combination of factors, may cause actual results to differ materially from those described in any forward-looking statements. The Issuer does not assume any obligation to update such forward looking statements or to adapt them to future events or developments unless required by law.

5. Third Party Information

In this Base Prospectus, the Issuer relies on and refers to information regarding the Group’s business and the markets in which Group operates and competes. Certain economic and industry data, market data and market forecasts set forth in this Base Prospectus were extracted from market research and industry publications. Where such third-party data has been used in the Base Prospectus, the source of data is named.

Where information in this Base Prospectus has been specifically identified as having been extracted from third party documents, the Issuer confirms that this information has been accurately reproduced and that as far as the Issuer is aware and is able to ascertain from information published by that third party, no facts have been omitted which would render the reproduced information inaccurate or misleading. Although the Issuer has no reason to believe that any of this information is inaccurate in any material respect, the Issuer has not independently verified the competitive position, market size, market growth or other data provided by third parties or by industry or other publications.

6. Assets backing the Securities

The Issuer confirms that the assets backing the issue of the Securities, taken together with the other arrangements to be entered into by the Issuer on or around the Issue Date, have characteristics that demonstrate capacity to produce funds to service any payments due and payable under the Securities. However, investors are advised that this confirmation is based on the information available to the Issuer at the date of this Base Prospectus and following Final Terms and may be affected by the future performance of such assets backing the issue of the Securities. Consequently, investors are advised to review carefully the disclosure in the Base Prospectus together with any amendments or supplements thereto.

7. MiFID II Product Governance

Solely for the purposes of each manufacturer's product approval process, the target market assessment in respect of the Securities has led to the conclusion that:

- the target market for the Securities is eligible counterparties, professional clients and retail clients, each as defined in Directive 2014/65/EU (as amended, "MiFID II"); and
- all channels for distribution of the Securities to eligible counterparties, professional clients and retail clients are appropriate. Any person subsequently offering, selling or recommending the Securities (a "distributor") should take into consideration the manufacturers' target market assessment; however, a distributor subject to MiFID II is responsible for undertaking its own target market assessment in respect of the Securities (by either adopting or refining the Loan Originator's target market assessment) and determining appropriate distribution channels.

8. Further information regarding the Base Prospectus

No person is authorised to give any information or to make any representations other than those contained in this Base Prospectus and, if given or made, such information or representations must not be relied upon as having been authorised by or on behalf of the Issuer.

The delivery of this Base Prospectus shall not, under any circumstances, create any implication

- (i) that the information in this Base Prospectus is correct as of any time subsequent to the date hereof or, as the case may be, subsequent to the date on which this Base Prospectus has been most recently amended, or supplemented, or
- (ii) that there has been no adverse change in the affairs or the financial situation of the Issuer which is material in the context of the Securities since the date of the Base Prospectus or, as the case may be, the date on which the Base Prospectus has been most recently amended or supplemented, or

6.6. Change of Control over the Loan Originator

The Loan Originator is not aware of any arrangements in existence as of the date of this Base Prospectus which could reasonably be expected to result in a change of control over the Loan Originator.

7. Business Overview of the Loan Originator

The Loan Originator offers on-line consumer loans to citizens of the Republic of Latvia. Non-bank credit market is saturated and there is fierce competition between non-bank crediting companies in terms of interest rates, crediting conditions and other factors.

As of 2017, the non-bank lending market has experienced a number of very important legislative amendments, including the conditions for evaluating consumer solvency, imposing an obligation to acquire certain information about consumer from credit bureaus and public authorities, limiting credit costs, and improving the regulatory framework for the prevention of money laundering and terrorism and proliferation financing.

On 1 January 2020, legislative regulations have entered into force, stipulating that the state fee for issuing a special permit is increased from EUR 71 140 to EUR 250 000, while the annual state fee for supervision of the activities of the lending service provider – from EUR 14 225 to EUR 55 000, resulting in a narrowing of competition in the non-bank lending market - from 56 competitors to 46.

The advantage of Loan Originator's offered consumer loan is the settlement speed. Consumer loan is a revolving loan, as the borrower is allowed to draw the loan repeatedly, up to the maximum amount of the granted credit limit. These loans can be obtained quickly, though undergoing mandatory loan quality checks, and are suitable both to cover unexpected expenses and for current expenses (e.g. holidays or school supplies for children), for which the family budget might sometimes be short. The website currently used by the Loan Originator to provide its consumer lending services through the internet platform is <https://www.viasms.lv>. The content of the website is not part of this Base Prospectus.

The Loan Originator's strategy is to become one of the leading consumer lending companies in Latvia. This will be achieved by profitable growth built on two main pillars: high quality customer service and tailored product portfolio.

Customer-focused service is ensured in line with local market practice. To ensure consistent quality of customer service operations, service standards have been developed, which includes (i) customer service and quality principles, (ii) best practices and requirements for managing customer service and (iii) internal procedures to ensure effective knowledge sharing and continuous improvement of operations. On a daily basis, the customer service is improved through regular benchmarking, experience sharing, and targeted projects supervised by the Group's operations team to roll-out best practices across the Group.

The Loan Originator's customer service is based on the following five core pillars to ensure convenience and high-quality customer experience:

- 1) Single point of contact: The customer service works on a phone to never redirect the customer to other colleagues. This approach minimises customer drop-off and maximises conversion. The Loan Originator's customer service employees are highly trained specialists able to serve the customers without any hand-offs by leveraging the Loan Originator's sophisticated IT platform and deep expertise in the products of the Loan Originator.
- 2) Speed: Critical success factor to the Loan Originator's consumer lending business is being able to give a binding consumer loan offer to the customer within a short period of time - approximately 15 minutes. The Loan Originator closely monitors key performance indicators on its response times; the channels where speed is most critical (e.g., sales through partner network) are prioritised.
- 3) Ease of access: the Loan Originator is accessible by phone, web, e-mail, chat and social networks. This setup gives the Loan Originator's customers a wide range of convenient contact options and allows the Loan Originator to drive customer conversion rates.
- 4) Procedures: The Loan Originator has rolled-out detailed client service procedures complying to local regulatory requirements and customer specifics. They are overlaid by Group customer service standards to ensure consistent service quality across all countries. A dedicated team from the Group drives the consistency of customer service standards, serves as the source for best practices and works with local country management to continuously improve the effectiveness and efficiency of local customer service organisations.

The Loan Originator motivates its employees through a tailored performance-based motivation system. A reward of the Loan Originator's customer service employees is given for sales performance, efficiency and quality. The Loan Originator monitors key performance indicators at all levels of organisation, and the performance is benchmarked against peers, other teams, and other markets. The strong customer service department and high-quality processes resulted in high client retention.

Processes of risk evaluation, fraud detection, scoring and loan approval process are kept ensured also by the Group's employees, while partners may be involved in the process of application submission.

The marketing technology used by the Loan Originator is increasingly sophisticated and enables a dynamically adjusted investment in different marketing channels to optimise the amount and type of traffic directed to the Loan Originator's websites. This targeted data-driven approach attracts the potential customers who are more likely to apply for the loans, and reduces costs per acquisition of new customers, an important component of the operating costs.

Overall marketing for the Loan Originator is being planned, executed and overseen from the Group Marketing department with support from marketing and PR agencies and local team situated in Latvia. Inhouse marketing of the Group consists of a team of professionals able to cover key business and product aspects such as strategic planning, analytics, project management, marketing acquisition, frontend design and usability, graphic design incl. animation, video production etc.

The Loan Originator is chosen over banks or other competitors due to flexibility, simple loan application and repayment process and fast processing times.

Primary marketing targets are sales, followed by brand awareness. At this point the Loan Originator is heavily expanding online presence by focusing on channels with largest growth potential. To achieve set sales targets, variety of paid and organic marketing acquisition channels are being used, to mention a few:

- Affiliate or partner marketing is, at this point, considered to be the most important customer acquisition channel. The Loan Originator has campaigns running with the largest traffic providers in Latvia. Pricing and purchasing models are being constantly adjusted to persuade high traffic quality and amount;
- Search Engine Marketing in global platforms such as Google and Bing are used to acquire customers based on search queries. The Loan Originator is also present and testing potential of local platforms such as Seznam;
- As for pay-per-click channels, social media platforms such as Facebook and YouTube are constantly used in different steps in customer journey. Besides those mentioned, the Loan Originator's number of different networks and sites with a range of different content types such as regular advertising, remarketing and so on.

For search engine optimization the Loan Originator considers a long-term approach; increase in organic traffic keeps building over time. Technical search engine optimization adjustments are performed on a regular basis. This is supported by content on both owned and bought media that altogether is a crucial part of marketing success story.

Frequently new traffic acquisition solutions are being tested, for example – chatbot with a goal to increase sales and lower customer support involvement with generic issues that can be solved without human interaction. At this point use of traditional advertising has not been considered due to the still high number of opportunities in online channels. High production and placement costs in TV and outdoor advertising and low self-sufficient channel performance in Radio also is a hold back. Except for direct customer acquisition, notable effort has been put into website development. Clear focus was set on registration form, user cabinet, key landing page user interface & technical search engine optimization adjustments followed by algorithm change. As the Loan Originator's year-to-year growth in mobile traffic, several adjustments had either been started or done regarding mobile-friendly interfaces and interaction ease.

A range of marketing activities are designed to target existing customer base to persuade inactive users to apply for the loan together with customers increasing their loan amount. For example, on a weekly basis Happy Wednesday campaign is active which allows to get up to 100% discount on loan commission for the next 30 days. During seasonal events promotional campaigns are active offering extended loan repayment periods or lower fees. Marketing automation is used to notify existing and potential customers on Loan Originator's offers and promotions. SMS, emails and web push notifications seem to have the most impact.

Taking into consideration market and legislation change, website visitor and marketing analytics has been updated to gain better insights on customer journeys and sales funnels. Improvements are performed in key drop-off areas to maximise return-on-investment.

7.1. Underlying Borrower

The Underlying Borrower is the resident of the Republic of Latvia, may choose the loan amount from EUR 100 to EUR 5 000. The minimum annual percentage rate could be 43.30% and the maximum annual percentage rate could be up to 53.90%. The Underlying Borrower is in the age group between 20 to 70 years. The Underlying Borrower may be employed, retired, a student, a civil servant or self-employed. The Underlying Borrower provides information on his income, amount of credit obligations, and personal identification number- required in creditworthiness evaluation in order to request data from credit bureaus about the customer's obligations, income and also for AML check. The Underlying Borrower maintains a valid email account and phone number during all the cooperation time with the Loan Originator.

During the identification process, the customer should make a payment of EUR 0.01 to the Loan Originator's bank account - the received payment data is compared with the data supplied by the customer and obtained from the databases. In the event of compliance, the bank account number of the incoming payment is used for the loan issuing. Prior to loan issuance, solvency of the Underlying Borrower is validated using information available at the external data sources, including various credit bureaus and debt collection agency databases available in the Republic of Latvia.

The loan is a revolving loan, as the client is allowed to draw the loan repeatedly, up to the maximum amount of the granted credit limit. The client can choose how to repay the loan: pay only a minimum monthly payment of 2.5% of the outstanding principal amount and monthly interest or repay the loan in full, therefore there is no exact loan repayment term stated in the Loan agreement. The minimum regular monthly payment could be at least EUR 3, the maximum regular monthly payment should not exceed EUR 177.39, with the option of settling the liabilities in full at any time. Average consumer loan issued in 2021 was EUR 216 and in 2022 average loan amount increased to EUR 283.

The Underlying Borrower can apply for an additional amount, which is an additional principal amount on top of already issued loan amount. The total issued principal amount, including additional amount, cannot exceed the individually set credit limit for each individual Underlying Borrower with the maximum possible amount set to EUR 5 000 at the time of preparing this Base Prospectus.

For more details please see 11. Selected Portfolio information of the Loan Originator.

7.2. Overview of the underwriting and review process

Loan issuance is based on data driven underwriting, key processes are automatized based on a scalable and efficient proprietary IT platform. Each customer's identity is checked through an external web verification service. The underwriting process is mostly performed automatically using the Group's proprietary IT systems.

Review process of each application consists of the following steps:

- a) Loan application processing, KYC and preliminary assessment;
- b) Risk evaluation and scoring;
- c) Final loan approval and loan issuance.

Loan application processing, KYC and preliminary assessment

The Loan Originator's underwriting process is automated to the maximum possible extent. The issuance policy sets detailed process overview including business "hard" rules, e.g., age limits, eligible customers, revenues, indebtedness levels, and fraud rules and scoring models for decision making.

During the loan application processing, the preliminary data in each application are cross-checked and supplemented if needed, the customer is asked with further information. Preliminary fraud and blacklists checks are performed, politically exposed persons/prominent influential persons and extra checks of the EU/UN sanction list, the US (OFAC), and the Latvian National sanction list are performed. During the loan application processing, the most important steps are the verification of the customer's eligibility for the Loan Originator's financing, based on the information related to the customer's financial, economic and reputational information and also based on the transaction terms applied. After such steps are successfully completed, the customer receives a preliminary loan offer.

Risk evaluation and Scoring

During the risk assessment and scoring evaluation stages, credit databases are checked, customer's income information analysed, customer indebtedness calculated and evaluated. The internally developed scoring tool gives a clear score that enables an informed granting decision. With the increase of the loan portfolio, the scoring models are updated. The Loan Originator analyses KYC information and the creditworthiness of its customers via public and private databases (government institution databases, debt collection agency databases, industry / peer company blacklists and bank statement providers) and allocates a scoring band to the customer. The scoring model is based on third party and in-house models and allows the Loan Originator an efficient assessment of the counterparty risk.

The Loan Originator benefits from the high visibility that its marketing has helped to develop and the investment in marketing technologies enables the Loan Originator to target the most efficient marketing channels for specific customer groups. While the Loan Originator is using a data-driven marketing strategy to attract potential customers, their suitability will be determined by the scoring model based underwriting process.

Final approval and loan issuance

Final approval of the loan issuance is made by the Loan Originator's employee and the decision is based on data provided by customer and in-house built data-driven assessment. Loan is issued to the Borrower's bank account immediately after the decision. The terms of the Loan Originator's loan agreements comply with local laws and regulatory guidance. Regulations may have an impact on interest rates, handling fees, commission fees, penalty fees, personal information disclosure, customer withdrawal rights, loan amendments (early repayments, term changes, takeover) and other terms.

7.3. Interest calculation, payments and maturity

The Underlying Loan agreement between the Loan Originator and the Borrower is concluded for an indefinite period that means there is no exact date of Underlying Loan maturity known at the date of signing the agreement. The maturity of the loan depends on the payments made by the Borrower.

Once the Underlying Loan is transferred to the Underlying Borrower's account, the interest calculation begins. Once a month the invoice is prepared and sent to the Underlying Borrower describing two repayment options. The Underlying Borrower can choose how to make payments: (a) pay only a minimum monthly payment in amount of 2.5% of the principal used and monthly interest and other fees if any, or (b) repay the loan in full and interest accrued for the period and other fees if any.

Although the schedule and invoice sent to the Underlying Borrower, he can repay any other amount which can be larger than the sum of monthly minimum payment of the principal used, monthly interest and other fees if any. Then the outstanding principal amount of the Underlying Loan will be decreased by this amount and a new payment schedule will be generated.

Additionally, the Underlying Borrower has the right to unilaterally withdraw from the Underlying Loan agreement within fourteen days from the Underlying Loan start date without any notification in advance of the cancellation. The Underlying Borrower does not have to pay additional compensation for early repayment of the Underlying Loan however interest payment must be made for actual loan duration. The Underlying Loan cancellation shall not cause any additional costs to the Underlying Borrower.

7.4. Debt collection

The Loan Originator has established an efficient and effective debt collection process with a dedicated team following local regulations. The Loan Originator's strategy is focused on maximising the dialogue with Borrowers and recovering payments. When the Loan Originator assesses that a Borrower can repay its loan, it offers various options and tailors the offers to such customers. When the Loan Originator assesses that the Borrower will not be able to continue a successful relationship, subsequent sale of debt is strived to the local debt recovery agency, while maintaining full transparency with the customer about the process.

The Loan Originator adjusts its approach based on the stage of the overdue loan (the Loan Originator classifies a loan as non-performing if it is more than 63 days overdue):

- 1) Before the loan becomes overdue, the Loan Originator has introduced an automated reminder process that ensures that the Borrower is aware of upcoming payment and payment details.
- 2) Since payment is 3, 7, 14, 23, 29, 30 days overdue, the Loan Originator launches its automated reminder system (sms, e-mails) mixed with physical calls from inhouse debt collection team. The Borrower is informed about the overdue amounts, the further actions if payment will not be made, and the Loan Originator's contacts to discuss the potential options.
- 3) At the final stage of the debt recovery process, the loan is terminated, and the last letter is generated to reflect the balance the Borrower must repay. If the Borrower does not repay it in time, Loan Originator passes the debt to inkasso company or sells the debt to external debt recovery agencies or starts court procedure.

To ensure consistent quality of debt collection operations, the Loan Originator has developed debt collection service standards that include (i) debt collection principles, (ii) best practices and requirements for the debt collection department and (iii) internal procedures. On a daily basis, the debt collection organisation is improved through regular benchmarking, experience sharing, and targeted projects supervised by the Group's operations team to roll-out best practices across the Group.

8. Regulatory framework

The Loan Originator is a licensed consumer lending non-banking company and is required to comply with rules on consumer lending and consumer rights protection, prohibition against unfair commercial practices, personal data processing requirements, debt collection legislation, money laundering and terrorism financing prevention requirements and civil law.

A licence is required for consumer lending in the Republic of Latvia. Only companies having received a special licence may provide credit services to consumers in the Republic of Latvia. All activities regarding consumers and licences, including compliance with anti-money laundering provisions, are supervised by the Consumer Rights Protection Centre of the Republic of Latvia (<https://www.ptac.gov.lv/>).

Legislation sets forth requirements in respect of the relationship between lending companies and their customers as they relate to marketing and remote agreements, consumer loans, the terms of consumer loan agreements and information that must be disclosed to prospective customers prior to entering into loan agreement, calculation of annual interest rates and limitations of penalties and interest, assessment of consumer solvency, right of withdrawal, as well as personal data processing, client identification and due diligence under anti-money laundering procedures and debt collection.

On 9 November 2017, amendments to the Law on Money Laundering and Prevention of Terrorism (NILLTFNL) entered into force, according to which all Consumer Rights Protection Centre licensed Consumer Credit Services Providers became NILLTFNL subjects with all the obligations and rights of the subject of the law, while the Consumer Rights Protection Centre is also designated as the supervisor in respect of compliance with the NILLTFNL.

The entities under the supervision of the Consumer Rights Protection Centre are governed by NILLTFNL and by Cabinet Regulation No. 705 of 13 November 2018, Regulations on the Prevention of Money Laundering and Terrorism Financing Requirements for Providers of Consumer Credit and Debt Recovery Services. Additional requirements for the subjects of the Law are specified in Cabinet Regulation No. 245 of 29 March 2011, Regulations regarding a special permit (licence) for the provision of consumer lending services.

Civil Law and Consumer Rights Protection Act sets general rules on consumer credit, which states the process of submitting loan application and assessing the creditworthiness of the consumer.

VIII. OVERVIEW OF THE TRANSACTION

The following overview (the "Overview") should be read as a part of the Base Prospectus. Any decision to invest in the Securities should be based on consideration of the Base Prospectus as a whole by the investor (including, in particular, the factors set out under "RISK FACTORS"). The Overview does not purport to be complete and is taken from and qualified in its entirety by the remainder of this Base Prospectus.

The following is an overview of the Transaction as illustrated by the structure diagram Legal arrangements between the parties:

1. Purchase of the Portfolio

Each transaction will be structured as a sale of the Underlying Portfolio by the Loan Originator to the Issuer pursuant to the Cooperation Agreement, where the Portfolio shall be sold partially and the Loan Originator will keep the ownership of a minimum of 5% skin-in-the-game of each of the Underlying Loans. The amount of the Underlying Portfolio sold to the Issuer within a Series of Securities shall be equal to the gross proceeds from the particular Issue of Securities.

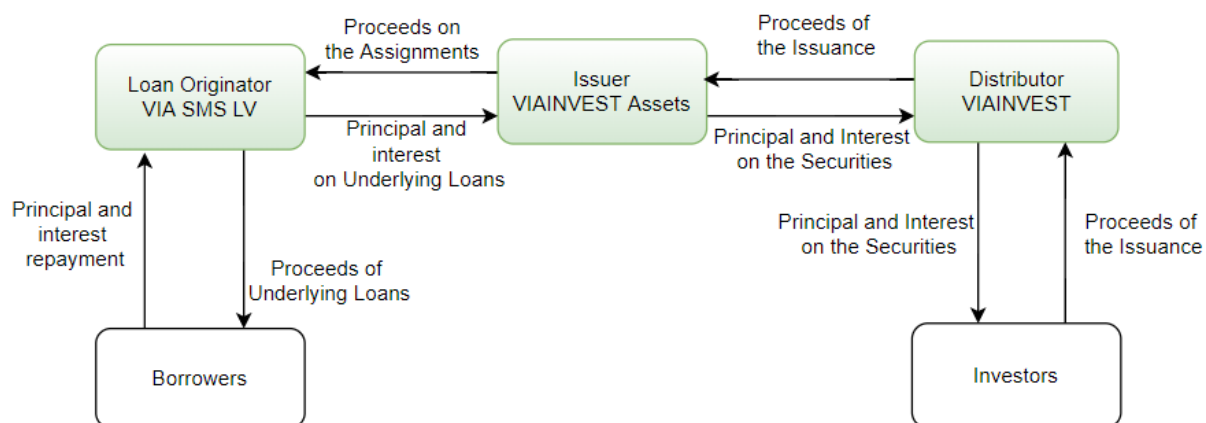

The Securities shall be issued at par and no discount or premium shall be applied unless otherwise stated in the relevant Final Terms. The Issuer will issue the Securities to Securityholders for the sole purpose of funding the acquisition of the Underlying Portfolio. The Loan Originator will be obliged under the terms and conditions of the relevant Cooperation Agreement to make payments in respect of principal, interest and additional amounts if any to the Issuer.

The Issuer will have no other financial obligations under the relevant Series of Securities and no other assets of the Issuer (including the Issuer's rights with respect to any Underlying Loan relating to any other Series of Securities) will be available to such Securityholders. Accordingly, all payments to be made by the Issuer under each Series of Securities will be made only from and to the extent of such sums received and retained (net of tax) or recovered by or on behalf of the Issuer from the assets securing such Series. Securityholders shall look solely to such sums for payments to be made by the Issuer under such Securities, the obligation of the Issuer to make payments in respect of such Securities will be limited to such sums and Securityholders will have no further recourse to the Issuer or any of the Issuer's other assets in respect thereof. In the event that the amount due and payable by the Issuer under such Securities exceeds the sums so received or recovered, the right of any person to claim payment of any amount exceeding such sums shall be extinguished, and Securityholders may take no further action to recover such amounts.

The payment for the Underlying Portfolio from the Issuer to the Loan Originator shall be executed from the issuance net proceeds, and the latter shall not derecognize the Underlying Portfolio from its balance sheet. All payments arising from the Cooperation Agreement shall be executed within 1 business day after the day of provision of the Settlement Report which shall be prepared by the Distributor once a week.

On each offer date during the period, the Issuer will purchase, subject to receipt of a corresponding offer, additional Underlying Loans from the Loan Originator pursuant to the terms of the Cooperation Agreement, subject to certain conditions including that each additional Underlying Loans are in compliance with the Eligibility Criteria.

The following is an overview of the cash flow for the Transaction when consumer loan is issued and the Security is issued as illustrated by the structure diagram Cash flow between the parties:

2. Issuance of the Securities and payment on the Securities

The sole purpose of the issue of the Securities is to fund the acquisition of the Portfolio. The Securities constitute the obligation of the Issuer to apply the proceeds from the issue of the Securities solely for financing the acquisition and to account to the Securityholders for an amount equivalent to sums of principal and interest and additional amounts (if any) actually received by or for the account of the Issuer pursuant to the Cooperation Agreement.

3. Servicing of the Portfolio

The Loan Originator will service the Portfolio in its capacity as a Servicer and will continue to pursue, inter alia, the collection management process on behalf of the Issuer according to the terms of the Cooperation Agreement. Until a Servicer Termination Event occurs, the Borrowers will not be notified of the assignments to the Issuer and the Borrowers will continue to pay their monthly instalments under the Loan Agreements to the Servicer (Sabiedrība ar ierobežotu atbildību "VIA SMS").

The Loan Originator will collect from the Borrowers the monthly interest and the monthly principal due from the Borrower to the Loan Originator, as well as the monthly recoveries on defaulted loans according to its debt collection policy. The Originator will undertake that its collection procedures under the debt collection policy will not materially change after the Issue Date.

The Loan Originator will transfer proportional part of all collections of the Underlying Loans to the Issuer's bank account, such transfer to be made on the Business Day immediately following the Business Day of

- (i) receipt of the funds by the Loan Originator and
- (ii) preparation of the Settlement report by the Distributor.

The Servicer will not be permitted to resign from its obligations and duties as a Servicer for the transaction deriving out of the Cooperation Agreement, except upon determination that its performance of such duties is no longer permissible under applicable law. No resignation will become effective until the involved parties have agreed on it and the successor servicer has assumed its servicing obligations and duties. Upon any termination of, or appointment of a successor to, the Servicer, the Issuer will give prompt written notice thereof to the Securityholders using the Platform.

If a Servicer default event such as bankruptcy or insolvency occurs during the transaction, all power and authority of the Servicer under the Cooperation Agreement will, without further action, pass to and be vested in a successor servicer appointed by the Issuer.

4. Operational Servicer

The management of the Issuer will be provided by the Operational Servicer (AS VIA SMS Group) in accordance with the terms of the Services Agreement.

Paying and Calculation Agency Agreement - Pursuant to the Paying and Calculation Agency Agreement, the Issuer has appointed the Principal Paying Agent and the Calculation Agent, inter alia, to (i) do certain calculations with respect to the payments due according to the applicable Priority of Payments based on the information received by the Servicer in the Servicer Report (ii) instruct the Account Bank to arrange for the payments under the applicable Priority of Payments and (iii) prepare and publish the Investor Report.

Pledge agreement - Pursuant to the Pledge Agreement, the Loan Originator in favour of the Issuer pledges its loan receivables arising from Underlying Portfolio to secure the Securities.

IX. TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF THE SECURITIES

The following developments consist of the text of the terms and conditions that, subject to completion in accordance with the provisions of the relevant Final Terms, shall be applicable to the Securities. The text of the Terms and Conditions will not be endorsed on physical documents of title but will be constituted by the following text as completed by the relevant Final Terms. All capitalised terms that are not defined in these Conditions will have the meanings given to them in the relevant Final Terms. References in the Terms and Conditions to "Securities" are to the Securities of one Series only, not to all Securities that may be issued under the Programme.

The Securities will be issued in series (each a "Series") having one or more issue dates and on terms otherwise identical (or identical other than in respect of the first payment of interest and the issue price), the Securities of each Series being intended to be interchangeable with all other Securities of that Series. The specific terms of each Series (which, save in respect of the issue date, issue price, first payment of interest and nominal amount of the Series, will be identical to the terms of the same Series) will be set out in the relevant Final Terms.

1. Consent of the Securityholders

Securityholders have notice of, and have accepted, these Terms and Conditions and the Final Terms. It is hereby expressly provided and Securityholders are deemed to have accepted that:

- the Issuer makes no representation or warranty in respect of, or shall at any time have no responsibility for liability or obligation in respect of the performance and observance by the Loan Originator of its obligations under the Cooperation Agreement or the recoverability of any sum of principal or interest (or any additional amounts) due or to become due from the Loan Originator under the Cooperation Agreement;
- the Issuer shall not at any time have any responsibility for, or obligation or liability in respect of, the condition (financial or otherwise), creditworthiness, affairs, status, nature or prospects of the Loan Originator;
- the Issuer shall not at any time be liable for any representation or warranty or any act, default or omission of the Loan Originator under or in respect of the Cooperation Agreement;
- the financial servicing and performance of the Terms and Conditions of the Securities depend solely and exclusively upon performance by the Loan Originator of its obligations under the Cooperation Agreement and its covenant to make payments under the Cooperation Agreement and its credit and financial standing. The Loan Originator has represented and warranted to the Issuer in the Cooperation Agreement that the Cooperation Agreement constitutes a legal, valid and binding obligation of the Loan Originator;
- the Issuer shall be entitled to rely on documents signed by the authorised persons of the Loan Originator (and, where applicable, certification by third parties) as a means of monitoring whether the Loan Originator is complying with its obligations under the Cooperation Agreement and shall not otherwise be responsible for investigating any aspect of the Loan Originator's performance in relation thereto;
- the Issuer shall not at any time be required to expend or risk its own funds or otherwise incur any financial liability in the performance of its obligations or duties or the exercise of any right, power, authority or discretion pursuant to these Terms and Conditions until it has received from the Loan Originator the funds or adequate indemnity against, and/or security and/or prefunding that are necessary to cover the costs and expenses in connection with such performance or exercise, or has been (in its sole discretion) sufficiently assured that it will receive such funds;

- the Issuer will not be liable for any shortfall in respect of amounts payable by or resulting from any withholding or deduction or for any payment on account of tax or duties required to be made by the Issuer on or in relation to any sum received by it under the Cooperation Agreement which will or may affect payments made or to be made by the Loan Originator under the Cooperation Agreement, save to the extent that it has received additional amounts under the Cooperation Agreement in respect of such withholding or deduction or payment, and the Issuer shall, furthermore, not be obliged to take any actions or measures as regards such deduction or withholding or payment, other than those set out in the Cooperation Agreement.

The obligations of the Issuer in respect of the Securities rank pari passu and ratably without any preference among themselves, as well as with respect to all general, direct, unconditional, unsubordinated and unsecured obligations of the Issuer and without any preference among themselves and at least pari passu with any present or future obligation.

Save as otherwise expressly provided herein, no proprietary or other direct interest in the Issuer's right under or in respect of the Cooperation Agreement and the corresponding Underlying Loan exists for the benefit of the Securityholders. No Securityholder will have any entitlement to enforce the Cooperation Agreement or direct recourse to the Loan Originator except through action by the Distributor pursuant to the relevant authority granted to the Distributor in the Platform Agreement. The Issuer shall not be required to take any step, action or proceedings to enforce payment under the Cooperation Agreement unless it has been indemnified and/or secured and/ or prefunded by the Securityholders to its satisfaction.

The obligations of the Issuer under the Securities shall be solely to make payments of amounts in aggregate equivalent to each sum actually received by or for the account of the Issuer (after deduction or withholding of such taxes or duties as may be required to be made by the Issuer by law in respect of such sum or in respect of the Securities and for which the Issuer has not received a corresponding payment (also after deduction or withholding of such taxes or duties as may be required to be made by the Issuer in respect thereof) pursuant to the Cooperation Agreement) from the Loan Originator in respect of principal, interest or, as the case may be, other amounts relating to the Cooperation Agreement and the corresponding Underlying Loan. Accordingly, all payments to be made by the Issuer under the Securities will be made only from and to the extent of such sums received or recovered by or on behalf of the Issuer. Securityholders shall look solely to such sums for payments to be made by the Issuer under the Securities, the obligation of the Issuer to make payments in respect of the Securities will be limited to such sums and Securityholders will have no further recourse to the Issuer or any of the Issuer's other assets (including the Issuer's rights with respect to any Underlying Loan relating to any other Series of Securities) in respect thereof. In the event that the amount due and payable by the Issuer under the Securities exceeds the sums so received or recovered, the right of any person to claim payment of any amount exceeding such sums shall be extinguished, and Securityholders may take no further action to recover such amounts.

Securityholders must therefore rely solely and exclusively upon the covenant to pay under the Cooperation Agreement and the credit and financial standing of the Loan Originator and no other assets of the Issuer will be available to the Securityholders.

2. Purpose of the Issue of the Securities

The sole purpose of the issue of the Securities is to fund the acquisition of the Underlying Portfolio. The Securities constitute the obligation of the Issuer to apply the proceeds from the issue of the Securities solely for financing the acquisition and to account to the Securityholders for an amount equivalent to sums of principal, interest and additional amounts (if any) actually received by or for the account of the Issuer pursuant to the Cooperation Agreement.

3. The Underlying Loans

The Securities shall be secured by the consumer loans originated by the Loan Originator. Prior to the issuance of each Series of Securities the Issuer shall purchase the claim rights towards the Underlying Borrower for the repayment of the principal arising from Underlying Loan Agreement originated by the Loan Originator (the Underlying Loan) in such amount that fully corresponds to the amount of the Securities that are to be issued within the particular Series of Securities (the Underlying Portfolio). These shall serve as the assets that are backing the Securities. The Loan Originator shall always keep a skin-in-the-game worth at least 5% of each Underlying Loan. This is done to ensure that the Loan Originator's interests are aligned with the holders of the Securities (the Securityholders).

4. Pool of Loans

Each Security issued within a certain Series of Securities shall be linked to a separate pool of the Underlying Loans (the Pool of Loans). The Issuer shall create many different Pools of Loans periodically depending on the supply of the Underlying Loans and the demand from the investors. Several different pools might be created on a daily basis depending on the case. Each Pool of Loans shall be linked to a finite number of Securities depending on the nominal value of the Pool of Loans. This shall among other things be defined within the relevant Final Terms.

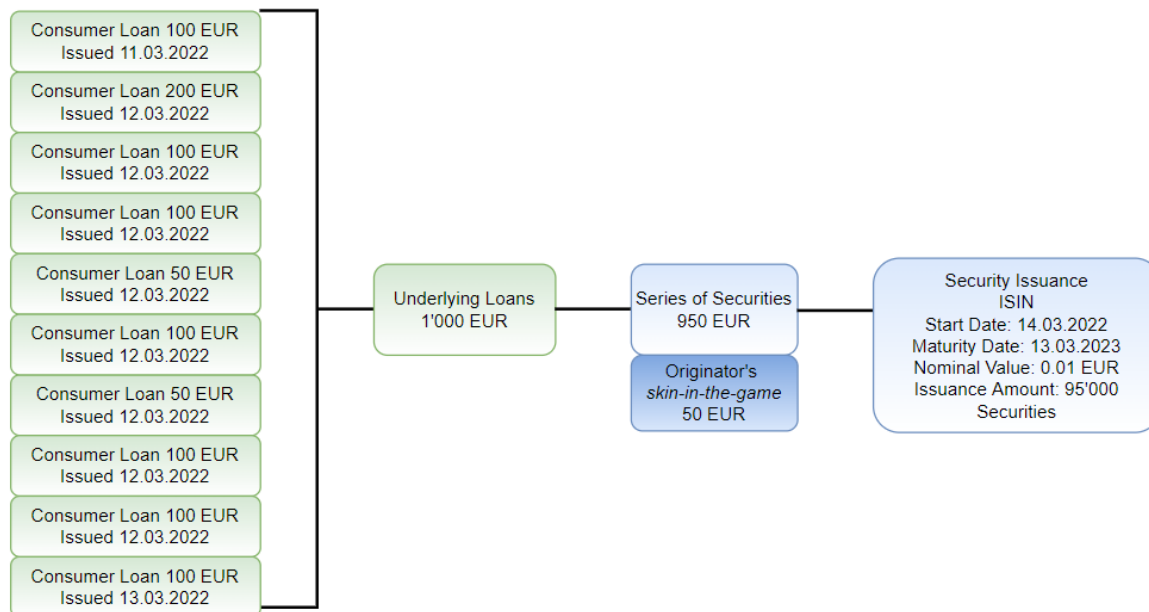

Any outstanding Underlying Loan as at the date of creating the Pool of Loans is required to meet certain eligibility criteria and can be included within the pool provided that it meets other conditions precedent.

The start date of the Underlying Loans might be prior to the date of the creation of the Pool of Loans, but not afterwards. If an Underlying Loan is increased via an additional amount, such additional amount shall not alter the existing Pool of Loans, but instead shall be included in a different pool.

The Underlying Loans within the same pool might have different start dates and maturity dates, as well as terms and nominal values, but the priority for creating the individual pools shall be to combine such loans that have the same or similar characteristics. Only homogenous loans shall be combined in the same pool, for example, loans that have the same type (i.e. consumer) and are issued by the same Loan Originator. Once a Pool of Loans is formed, it cannot be supplemented by additional loans than the ones initially included within the pool.

Each Pool of Loans shall have a nominal value equal to the sum of the nominal values of the Underlying Loans within the pool. The number of Securities that are linked to a certain Pool of Loans depends on the nominal value of the pool.

Please see below the diagram with securitization sample:

All of the Securities that are linked to a certain Pool of Loans are equal and have the same ISIN, cash flow, nominal value, start date, maturity as well as other characteristics and are replaceable between each other. If two or more Securityholders have purchased Securities that are linked to the same Pool of Loans, all of them shall receive the same cash flows proportional to their share of the number of the Securities purchased, because each Security represents a relatively small portion of all the Underlying Loans within the particular pool simultaneously. The same applies to a delay of the repayment of the Securities subject to Early Mandatory Redemption described below. If any of the Underlying Loans repayments are delayed, then a corresponding delay of the repayment of the Securities takes place. As a result, the Securities are not linked to individual Underlying Loans, but instead to the entire Pool of Loans.

5. Denomination

The Issuer shall issue Securities in aggregate principal amount of EUR 50,000,000 (fifty million euro) which shall not exceed at any given time. The Securities shall be issued at par and in several Series of Securities with a nominal value of a single Security, EUR currency and denomination specified at Final Terms. A single Security cannot be split among several Securityholders and can be owned by a single Securityholder only. A single Securityholder may hold an infinite number of Securities.

The Securities shall be issued at their nominal amount without any discount or a premium. Minimum denomination of an issue will be EUR 0.01.

6. Form of the Securities

The Securities shall be in registered and book-entered form as asset backed securities and traded over-the-counter within Platform and the accounting of the Securities shall be made by the Calculation Agent.

7. Type and class

The Securities are asset-backed securities; thus, their type can be classified as debt securities. The securities are not divided into classes.

8. Register

The Distributor shall record in the names and addresses of the holders of the Securities, particulars of the Securities and all transfers and redemptions thereof in its records (the "Register"). In these Conditions, the "holder" of a Security means the person in whose name such Security is for the time being registered in the relevant Register and "Securityholder" shall be construed accordingly.

9. Title

The Securityholder shall (except as otherwise required by law) be treated as the absolute owner of such Security for all purposes once the Securities are fully paid on the date of the sale (whether or not it is overdue and regardless of any notice of ownership, trust, nomineehip or any other interest in the Security), and no person will be liable for so treating the Securityholder. A transfer of the Securities shall be executed without charge by or on behalf of the Issuer, but upon payment by the relevant Securityholder of any tax or other governmental charges which may be imposed in relation to it. No certificates will be issued to any Securityholder in respect of its holding.

10. Transfers

The Securities shall be traded over the counter on the Platform www.viainvest.com maintained by the Distributor. As of the Issue Date, the Securities are publicly offered by the Issuer through the Platform. Investors can purchase the Securities from the Issue Date until the Maturity Date of the Securities provided in the Final Terms or until the time when the Securities are fully sold to Investors by the Issuer, whichever occurs earlier. Information about the offer results of the Securities is published on the website www.viainvest.com in real time starting from the Issue Date of the Securities. Subscriptions will not be reduced, which means refund of amounts paid in excess does not apply. The Issuer does not expect any conditions to which offer of the Securities would be subject. The Securities are illiquid securities and there is no active market for them, and the Securities are not admitted to any trading venue. The potential buyers and transferees are limited only to other clients who are registered on the Platform. No application has been or will be made to trade the Securities on any regulated market or any other trading venue, other than the Platform.

11. Interest

The Rate of Interest of the Security shall be fixed and independent from the interest rates of the Underlying Loans and shall be defined within the relevant Final Terms. Each Security bears an annual interest rate (as defined in the Final Terms) on its outstanding principal amount (the "Interest Amount"), which may differ from, but not be higher than the annual interest rate of the relevant Underlying Loan.

The Interest Amount on the Securities is paid by the Issuer to the Securityholders on the Interest Payment Date and after receiving a corresponding interest payment with respect to the Underlying Loan from the Loan Originator, provided that the latter is sufficient to cover the Interest Amount to the Securityholders.

Unless previously redeemed, on each Interest Payment Date, the Issuer shall pay to the Securityholders, for each Security, an amount determined by the Calculation as follows:

$$(\text{Annual Interest Rate}) \times (\text{Nominal Value}) \times (\text{Number of Days from investment is made or Number of days since the previous Interest Payment Date}) / \text{actual days in a year}$$

11.1. Interest Payment Dates

The payment dates of interest to the Securityholders are defined in the Final terms as Interest Payment Date. The Interest payment is made once per month on the same consequent date of the month when the Securities are published. In line with the Cooperation Agreement the following scenarios are possible:

- if a timely repayment of interest by the Underlying Borrower with respect to the Underlying Loan takes place, the Loan Originator is obliged to make a corresponding Interest Amount payment to the Issuer to make payments according to the Interest payment date schedule;
- if a delay of the repayment of interest by the Underlying Borrower with respect to the Underlying Loan takes place, the Loan Originator is obliged to make a corresponding Interest Amount payment to the Issuer on the place of the Underlying Borrower in line with the Cooperation Agreement. Please see VIII. OVERVIEW OF THE TRANSACTION – The Main Transaction Documents.

In case the repayment of the Underlying Loan is repaid not on the Business Day, the respective repayment to the Securityholder is made on the same day or on the next 7 (seven) days following the Business Day.

11.2. Accrual of Interest and Calculations

Interest shall accrue on the unpaid principal amount of the Security up to, and including, the due date for redemption (as defined in section 12. Maturity and Redemption) in the manner provided in the Final Terms of the particular Security.

11.3. Default Interest

If the Issuer fails to redeem the Securities on the day on which they become due for redemption within five Business Days, default interest shall accrue on the overdue amount from, but excluding the due date up to and including the date of actual payment at a rate, which is equal to the annual interest rate as defined in the Final Terms.

12. Maturity and Redemption

12.1. Maturity

The maturity dates as defined in the Final Terms of the Securities are set in a way to match the possible maturity of the Pool of Loans to which the Security is linked. As the Borrower can repay Underlying Loan in full or pay a minimum monthly payment, it is not possible to define the certain maturity date neither for Underlying Loan nor for the Security. Therefore, the Issuer will assign the Maturity date of each Series of Securities in the Final terms ensuring it is not longer than the maximum possible repayment term of the Underlying Loan which could be about 40 months. Taking into consideration that the Borrower repays the monthly minimal amount 2.5% of the Underlying loan principal, it could take him 40 months to repay the Underlying loan in full.

12.2. Scheduled Redemption

The repayment of the Securities shall be made subject to the repayment of the relevant Underlying Loans within the pool to which the Securities are linked to. Whenever the Issuer receives a scheduled repayment of the principal of any of the Underlying Loans within the pool, the amount shall be collected and distributed on a monthly basis on Interest Payment Date equally among all the Securities within the particular Pool of Loans.

If a delay of the repayment of any of the Underlying Loans within the pool takes place and maturity date appears, the Issuer shall receive the corresponding repayments from the Loan Originator under the Cooperation Agreement and the Issuer shall redeem the Securities.

12.3. Early Mandatory Redemption

The Securities shall be repaid in full or in part (as might be the case) on monthly basis on the Interest Payment Date, if:

- (i) the Underlying Loans cease to exist, or
- (ii) an early full or partial repayment is made by the Underlying Borrower, or
- (iii) in case if Underlying Loan (which is backed to the Series of Securities) do not meet the eligibility criteria; or
- (iv) the Underlying Loan is sold to a third party outside the Loan Originator, or
- (v) the Underlying Loan is withdrawn within 14 days in line with the laws on credit agreements for consumers and repaid, or
- (vi) in case of the Buyback Obligation, or
- (vii) it becomes unlawful for the Securities to remain outstanding according to the law.

The Buyback Obligation is the obligation, if any payment under any of the relevant Underlying Loans is delayed by more than 60 days, for the Loan Originator to repurchase the relevant Loan Receivables from the Issuer, provided that the Buyback Obligation is stated as being applicable in the Final Terms. If the Buyback Obligation is triggered, the relevant Series of Securities will be redeemed early on the next Interest Payment Date in part once the Issuer has received the buyback price from Loan Originator. The buyback price is the nominal value of the Underlying Loan as it is at the time when the Buyback Obligation arose, which means the nominal value of the principal outstanding and the interest and other ancillary claims assigned to the Issuer that form part of the Underlying Loan up to the date when the Buyback Obligation was triggered.

12.4. Early Voluntary Redemption

The Issuer may redeem all or some of the outstanding Securities in full or in part before the Maturity Date and a proportion of the amount outstanding of the Securities will be redeemed pro rata on each Redemption Date and at any other time any principal payment from any of the Underlying Loans is received by the Issuer. The Issuer must not give a notice to the Securityholders.

12.5. Redemption at the option of the Securityholder

Redemption at the option of the Securityholder is not applicable.

13. Payments and Cash Flows

The non-invested amounts of the Investors shall be held in a separate bank account of the Distributor. Upon the sale of the Security, the relevant amount of the funds of the Investor shall be transferred to the account of the Issuer or on its behalf to the Loan Originator's account opened within the Distributor on the same or next consecutive business day.

Payments in respect of the repayment of the Securities shall be made only in such amounts that are equivalent to the sums actually paid by the Loan Originator by way of principal, interest or additional amounts (if any) pursuant to the Cooperation Agreement, and will be made pro rata among all Securityholders, on the date of, and in the currency of, and subject to the conditions attaching to, the corresponding repayment by the Loan Originator pursuant to the Cooperation Agreement. If the Loan Originator fails to make the payment, the Issuer shall not be obliged to make a corresponding repayment of the Securities until it has received the funds from the Loan Originator.

The Issuer shall not be liable to make any payment in respect of the Securities other than as expressly provided herein. The Issuer shall not be under any obligation to exercise in favour of the Securityholders any rights of set-off or of banker's lien or to combine accounts or counterclaim that may arise out of other transactions between the Issuer and the Loan Originator.

13.1. Payments

All payments on the Securities shall be made by the Issuer to the Securityholders by way of a bank transfer only in Business days from the Issuer or the Loan Originator to the Distributor, who maintains each Securityholder's investment account and the Register and holds the funds on behalf of the Securityholders. No direct payments between the Issuer and the Securityholder's shall take place. The payments between the Issuer and the Distributor arising from the Cooperation agreement and Paying Agent agreement can be settled against each other.

13.2. Payments on Business Days

If the due date for payments of interest or principal is not a Business Day, a Securityholder shall not be entitled to payment of the amount due until the next following Business Day and shall not be entitled to any further interest or other payment in respect of any such delay.

13.3. Priority of Payments

All funds received by the Issuer in relation to the Underlying Loans, irrespective whether indicated as corresponding to the relevant Underlying Loan or not, to the extent legally permitted, will be applied by the Issuer in the following order of priority:

- (1) in or towards payment of any amounts owed by the Issuer to any tax authority and required to be paid by the Issuer under or pursuant to the Securities;
- (2) in payment or satisfaction of all fees and penalty fees then due and unpaid to Distributor by the Loan Originator under the Cooperation Agreement;
- (3) in or towards payment or satisfaction of all amounts then due and unpaid as commissions, fees, costs, charges, expenses and liabilities incurred or payable for servicing of the Underlying Loans if (i) the Issuer or any person designated by the Issuer has taken over the servicing of the Underlying Loans or (ii) any event of default of the Loan Originator has occurred under any of the Main Transaction Documents and the Issuer acts for the purposes of recovery of funds includes filing a claim in the liquidation, insolvency or other administrative proceedings of the Loan Originator, or enforcing any legal rights;
- (4) in or towards payment or satisfaction of any costs, including legal fees, for any action to recover funds, collect or restructure payment obligations, or taking any other actions to receive the Underlying Loans;
- (5) to the Securityholders in or towards the payment or discharge of all amounts of Interest and principal (Late Payment Interest or penalty fee or other assigned claim, if any, in the order that is set forth with respect to the particular Underlying Loan) then due and payable under or in respect of Series, Buyback Obligation prices, unless the Buyback Obligation price is discharged next according to (6) below. Such payment/discharge being done by placing Underlying Loans of all Series outstanding in the chronological order from the Underlying Loan having oldest payment to the Underlying Loan having newest payment, and then applying pro rata approach on each particular Series level; and

(7) to the Securityholders in or towards the payment of the Buyback Obligation price, if the Loan Originator is late in making payments due to the Issuer for the period that the Issuer finds material. Such payment/discharge being done by placing Underlying Loans of all Series outstanding in the chronological order from the Series Specific Loan having oldest buyback related payment to the Series Specific Loan having newest buyback related payment, and then applying pro rata approach on each particular Series level.

Neither the Issuer nor Distributor will be liable for applying the Priority of Payments, including for any minor errors, pursuant to Chapter 20. Limitation of Liability, and Representation and Warranties of the Securityholders.

13.4. Issuer's Obligations arising from the Securities

In each case where amounts of principal, interest and additional amounts (if any) are stated to be payable in respect of a Series of Securities, the Issuer has an obligation to make any such payment to the Securityholders only if and in such amount as the corresponding payment has been received and retained (net of tax and all other deductions whatsoever) by the Issuer from the Loan Originator or if previously agreed directly from the Loan Originator to Distributor in respect of the Issuer's liabilities. The Issuer will have no other financial obligation under the Securities.

Except as set forth herein, payments in respect of the Securities will be made without any deduction or withholding for, or on account of, the taxes of any relevant jurisdiction, except as required by the laws of the Republic of Latvia. Please see section X. TAXATION

14. Subscription and Sale

14.1. The Distributor

The Distributor maintains the Platform for the Issuer to offer and sell the Securities to the Securityholders pursuant to an agreement between the Loan Originator, the Issuer and the Distributor (the "Cooperation Agreement").

The investors can subscribe to a specific Series until the specific Series are fully subscribed (meaning that the subscriptions have reached the aggregate nominal value) or the Maturity Date has been reached. The subscription period for each Series is set until the Maturity date and this subscription continues until the specific Series are fully subscribed (meaning that the subscriptions have reached aggregate nominal value) or the Maturity Date has been reached. Results of the offer and any changes appeared are available online on the Platform.

The Distributor can at any time reduce or cancel the subscription to the Series without coordinating it with the investors of the Distributor or the Securityholders. In this case the investors of the Distributor or the Securityholders are refunded in the full amount paid for the Securities.

Subject to the terms and conditions contained in the Cooperation Agreement between the Distributor, the Issuer and the Loan Originator, the Securities will be periodically offered by the Issuer to the Distributor. Any agreement for the sale of Securities will, inter alia, make provision for:

- the form and terms and conditions of the relevant Securities;
- whether the placement of the Securities is available only over-the-counter on the Platform;
- the price at which such Securities will be offered by the Distributor;
- the commissions or other agreed deductibles (if any) which are payable or allowable by the Issuer in respect of such subscription and;

- the form of any indemnity to the Distributor against certain liabilities in connection with the offer and sale of the relevant Securities.

The settlement for the Securities will be carried out by the Distributor in accordance with the DVP (Delivery vs Payment) principle pursuant to the applicable rules of the Platform.

The Securities may not be resold at prevailing market prices, or at prices related thereto. The Issuer and the Loan Originator has agreed to indemnify the Distributor against certain losses, as set out in the Cooperation Agreement. The Cooperation Agreement entitles the Distributor to terminate any agreement that they make to subscribe for the Securities in certain circumstances prior to payment for such Securities being made to the Issuer.

There are no pre-emption rights linked to the Series and the Securities.

14.2. Role and Liability of the Distributor

The Cooperation Agreement contains provisions for the indemnification of the Distributor and for its relief from responsibility in certain circumstances, including provisions relieving it from taking proceedings to enforce payment unless indemnified and/or secured and/or prefunded to its satisfaction, and to be paid its costs and expenses in priority to the claims of Securityholders. In addition, the Distributor is entitled to enter into business transactions with the Issuer and the Loan Originator and any entity relating to the Issuer, without accounting for any profit and obtaining any consent from the Securityholders.

In connection with the exercise by it of any of its trusts, powers, authorities and discretions (including, without limitation, any modification, waiver, authorisation, determination or substitution), the Distributor shall have regard to the general interests of the Securityholders as a class but shall not have regard to any interests arising from circumstances particular to individual Securityholders (whatever their number) and, in particular but without limitation, shall not have regard to the consequences of any such exercise for individual Securityholders (whatever their number) resulting from their being for any purpose domiciled or resident in, or otherwise connected with, or subject to the jurisdiction of, any particular territory or any political sub-division thereof and the Distributor shall not be entitled to require, nor shall any Securityholder be entitled to claim, from the Issuer, the Distributor or any other person any indemnification or payment in respect of any tax consequence of any such exercise upon individual Securityholders except to the extent already provided for in Section X. TAXATION

14.3. Fees

The Distributor shall receive a fee for its services from the Issuer as well as is entitled to any other remuneration for its work and services provided to other parties. The fee paid by the Issuer to the Distributor for its services with respect to the issue of the Securities shall be expressed as a fixed percentage rate from the total amount of the Securities issued by the Issuer.

14.4. Prescription

Claims against the Issuer for payment in respect of the Securities shall be prescribed and become void unless made within ten (10) years (in the case of payments relating to principal) or five (5) years (in the case of payments relating to interest) as from the date on which payment in respect thereof first becomes due.

15. Taxes

All payments in respect of the Securities by the Issuer shall be made without withholding or deduction for, or on account of, any present or future taxes, duties, assessments or governmental charges of whatever nature (the “Taxes”), unless the withholding or deduction of the Taxes is required by laws of the Republic of Latvia. In such a case, the Issuer shall make such payment after the withholding or deduction has been made and shall account to the relevant authorities in accordance with the applicable laws for the amount so required to be withheld or deducted. The Issuer shall not be obligated to make any additional compensation to the Securityholders in respect of such withholding or deduction. See Chapter X. TAXATION for more details.

16. Representation and warranties of the Issuer

The Issuer warrants to the Securityholders that at the Issue Date and for as long as any Securities are outstanding:

- the Issuer and the Loan Originator are duly incorporated and validly existing as legal entities in their jurisdiction of incorporation, and operating under the laws of jurisdiction of their incorporation;
- all the Issuer's and the Loan Originator's obligations assumed under these Terms and Conditions are valid and legally binding to them and performance of these obligations is not contrary to any laws applicable to them or their constitutional documents;
- the Issuer has all the rights and sufficient authorizations to issue the Securities and to enter into these Terms and Conditions and fulfil obligations arising from the Securities and these Terms and Conditions, and the Issuer has performed all the formalities required for issuing the Securities;
- all information that is provided by the Issuer to the Securityholders is true, accurate, complete and correct as of the date of presenting the respective information and is not misleading in any material respect;
- the Issuer and the Loan Originator are solvent, able to pay their debts as they fall due, there are no liquidation, compulsory execution, reorganisation or bankruptcy proceedings pending or initiated against the Issuer and/or the Loan Originator;
- there are no court or arbitration proceedings pending or initiated against the Issuer and the Loan Originator where an unfavourable decision would, according to reasonable assessment of the Issuer, have a material adverse impact on the economic condition of the Issuer and the Loan Originator.

17. Issuer's covenants

So long as any of the Securities remain outstanding, the Issuer will not, without the prior written consent of the Distributor, agree to any amendments to or any modification of, or waiver of the terms of the Cooperation Agreement. Any such amendment, modification or waiver made with the consent of the Distributor shall be binding on the Securityholders and any such amendment or modification shall be notified by the Issuer to the Securityholders in accordance with Section 23. Notices.

The Issuer warrants and guarantees that it will not:

- a) incur any other indebtedness for borrowed moneys (other than issuing further Securities and/or creating or incurring further obligations relating to such Securities and issues of Securities on a limited recourse basis for the sole purpose of granting financing to the Group subsidiaries);
- b) obtain participation in other companies by investing funds, except if the Issuer acquires over 25% (twenty-five per cent) participation in this company by making an investment or if the Issuer acquires participation of other Group company;
- c) sell, present, change, rent, invest, or otherwise transfer into utilisation the right to use the trademarks of the Issuer, except if trademarks are sold, presented, changed, rented, invested, or otherwise transferred into utilisation to the Issuer's subsidiary company, its managing company, or any companies dependent on the managing company, other enterprises or companies which have directly or indirectly acquired participation in the equity capital of the Issuer or in which the Issuer has acquired direct or indirect participation (if any);

- d) start carrying out a substantially new type of economic activity, except any businesses, services or activities that are the same as, or reasonably related, ancillary or complementary to, any of the businesses, services or activities in which the Issuer, Group's subsidiaries and the Loan Originator are engaged on the Issue Date, and reasonable extensions, developments or expansions of such businesses, services or activities;
- e) Not to commence Issuer's liquidation and not to reduce Issuer's share capital unless simultaneously Group liabilities against the Issuer are also reduced;
- f) encumber the assets, except in case of agreements entered into with credit institutions, banks, direct lenders or peer to peer marketplace lending platforms on the allocation of funds, or in case of issue of secured Securities, or existing encumbrances as of the Issue Date.

18. Event of Default

18.1. The Issuer is in default if at least one of the following events occurs and as long as it has not been rectified ("Event of Default"):

18.1.1. The Issuer is declared insolvent by the court of Republic of Latvia in accordance with the Insolvency Law of Republic of Latvia;

18.1.2. The Issuer has submitted an application for liquidation in the relevant state authorities in Latvia.

18.2. If the Event of Default occurs, the Securityholder can submit a written notification to the Issuer regarding that the immediate repayment deadline has set in for the Securities owned by the relevant Securityholder, at any time after the Event of Default has occurred (and as long as the Event of Default exists). The Issuer has to pay the nominal amount of Securities along with the accrued Interest Amount and default interest, in accordance with the Section "Default Interest ", within 5 (five) Business Days after the receipt of the notification, except for Event of Default under 18.1.2.

18.3. Securities are equivalent to other unsecured loans of the Issuer. In case of Issuer's insolvency, Securityholders have the same right to receive their investment as other creditors of the relevant group in accordance with applicable regulatory enactments. There are no contracts or other transaction documents, which would subordinate the claims of Securityholders to other unsecured obligations of the Issuer. The Issuer is not prohibited from pledging assets in favour of other creditors. All indebtedness and obligations of the Issuer, which are secured, will have to be satisfied before any of the assets of the Issuer would be available for distribution upon liquidation or otherwise to the Securityholders.

19. Limitation of Liability, and Representation and Warranties of the Securityholders

Within the framework of the issue, it is not planned, yet not prohibited to create an organisation of authorised persons which would represent Securityholders. In case of the insolvency of the Issuer, every Securityholder has the right to represent his own interests in creditors' meetings. The Securityholders will have equal rights for satisfaction of their claims with other creditors in the same claims' group.

Notwithstanding anything in the Base Prospectus, other than with respect to gross negligence or wilful misconduct by the Issuer and/or Distributor, neither the Issuer nor Distributor will be held liable by any Securityholder for:

- (a) any material error, misrepresentation, omission or fraud by the Loan Originator;
- (b) failure of the Loan Originator for whatever reason to inform the Issuer and/or Distributor of the Payment Event having occurred or for the information being inaccurate or wrong;

(c) the Underlying Loan; or

(d) determinations and decisions when distributing amounts under the Securities, including, when applying the Priority of Payments, deciding whether to defer payment or make a partial payment, relying upon or deciding if and when there is no realistic prospect of collecting further funds under a Underlying Loan, including in the event of default of the Loan Originator.

In any and all cases liability of the Issuer and/or Distributor to any Securityholder under these Terms and Conditions will be limited to the amount invested in the impacted Securities by the Securityholder.

Each Securityholder, on subscribing or buying any Security directly, through a strategy of the Platform or any other way, irrevocably accept and acknowledge that it is fully aware that:

(a) the Issuer and Distributor do not make any representation or warranty in respect of, or will not at any time have any responsibility for, or, save as otherwise expressly provided in these Terms and Conditions, liability or obligation in respect of the performance and observance by any Borrower of its obligations under the relevant Underlying Loan, the Loan Originator of its obligations under the Cooperation Agreement, the pledgor of its obligations under the pledge agreement, or the recoverability of any sum of the principal, Interest, other return or any additional amounts (if any) due or to become due from any Borrower, the Loan Originator, the pledgor;

(b) the Issuer and Distributor will not at any time have any responsibility for, or obligation or liability in respect of, the condition, financial or otherwise, covenant, creditworthiness, affairs, status or nature of any Borrower, the Loan Originator, the pledgor or any other person;

(c) the Issuer and Distributor will not at any time be liable for any representation or warranty, or any act, default or omission of any Borrower, the Loan Originator, the pledgor or other person;

(d) the Issuer will not at any time have any responsibility for, or liability or obligation in respect of, the performance and observance by Distributor of its obligations under the Transaction Documents or any other agreement entered or to be entered into by and between the Securityholders and Distributor;

(e) financial servicing and performance of the terms of the Security depend upon both the performance by each Borrower of its obligations under the Underlying Loan, its duties to make payments under the Underlying Loan and its credit and financial standing, and the performance by the Loan Originator, the pledgor of their respective contractual obligations towards the Issuer and Distributor as well as their respective credit and financial standing;

(f) the Securities, which the Securityholder has or will acquire, reflect the performance of the relevant Underlying Loans. The Securityholder has no direct recourse to any of the Underlying Loans or the corresponding Underlying Loan. Once the Underlying Loan has been realised according to these Terms and Conditions, the Securityholder is not entitled to take any further steps against the Issuer or Distributor to recover any further sums due and the right to receive any such sum will be extinguished. The Securityholder accepts not to attach or otherwise seize any of the assets of the Issuer. In particular, the Securityholder will not be entitled to petition or take any step for the winding-up, the liquidation or the bankruptcy of the Issuer or any similar insolvency-related proceedings and such petition or action will be treated as null and void as from its initiation time; and

(g) the Securityholder account on the Platform will be opened and be held by the Securityholder fully operational with the Distributor while the Securityholder holds any Securities.

20. Disclosure of information

Up to the maturity of Securities, the Issuer shall publish all the information required by regulatory enactments.

21. Force Majeure

21.1. The Issuer shall be entitled to postpone the fulfilment of its obligations hereunder, in case the performance is not possible due to continuous existence of any of the following circumstances:

- 21.1.1. action of any authorities, war or threat of war, rebellion or civil unrest, pandemic;
- 21.1.2. disturbances in postal, telephone or electronic communications which are due to circumstances beyond the reasonable control of the Issuer and that materially affect operations of the Issuer;
- 21.1.3. any interruption of or delay in any functions or measures of the Issuer as a result of fire or other similar disaster;
- 21.1.4. any industrial action, such as strike, lockout, boycott or blockade affecting materially the activities of the Issuer, or
- 21.1.5. any other similar force majeure or hindrance.

21.2. In such case the fulfilment of the obligations may be postponed for the period of the existence of the respective circumstances and shall be resumed immediately after such circumstances cease to exist, provided that the Issuer shall put all best efforts to limit the effect of the above referred circumstances and to resume the fulfilment of its obligations as soon as possible.

22. Notices

All notices and reports to the Securityholders shall be published on the Platform (<https://viainvest.com/>) in English language. Any notice or report published in such manner shall be deemed to have been received on the same Business Day when it is published. The Securityholders will be notified by the Distributor of the amount of the Securities allotted on their profile in Platform. The dealing may not begin before the above mentioned notification is made.

23. Meetings of Securityholders

The issuance of Securities described in this Base Prospectus does not provide for the right of the Securityholders to establish a representative body and / or authorise an organisation / person to represent all or part of the interests of the Securityholders, however, such rights are not prohibited by the respective legal framework of the Republic of Latvia.

24. Availability of the Terms and Conditions

The copies of these Terms and Conditions are available at the legal address of the Issuer at Roberta Hirsa street 1, Riga, LV-1045, Latvia on any Business Day within the limits of normal business hours upon request and on the Platform web page <https://viainvest.com/>.

25. Governing Law and dispute resolution

These Terms and Conditions, and any non-contractual obligations arising out of or in connection therewith, shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the Republic of Latvia.

Any disputes relating to or arising in relation to the Securities and the pool of assets which are backing up the Securities shall be settled solely by the courts of the Republic of Latvia of competent jurisdiction.

X. TAXATION

Please be aware that tax legislation of the Securityholder's country of residence and of the Issuer's country of residence may have an impact on the income received from the Securities, therefore, it is advised for the Securityholder to assess the tax liabilities arising from the acquisition, ownership and sale of the Securities. The tax legislation in force in the jurisdiction of a potential investor, in the Issuer's country of incorporation (i.e., the Republic of Latvia) and in any other relevant jurisdiction may have an impact on the income which may be received from the Securities.

The following section is a description of certain tax consequences under the tax laws of the Republic of Latvia with regard to the acquisition, ownership and sale of the Securities. The following description of the tax situations is not intended to provide exhaustive information that might be necessary for an individual purchase decision regarding the Securities offered. Only the essential regulations of income taxation are described in an outline. The Issuer points out that the specific tax consequences depend on the personal circumstances of the investors and may be affected by future changes in tax legislation, case law and/or the instructions of the fiscal authority. The description is based on the fiscal law applicable in the Republic of Latvia at the time the Base Prospectus is being produced. These laws may change with retroactive effect as well. The specific tax treatment of the purchase, ownership or sale of the Securities is thus only governed by the tax laws applicable in the individual case at any time in the respective interpretation by the fiscal authority and the fiscal courts. It cannot be ruled out that the interpretation by a tax authority or a fiscal court is different from the explanations shown here. Although the following explanations reflect the assessment by the Issuer, they may not be misinterpreted as tax advice or a guarantee. Tax advice cannot be replaced by these explanations and is therefore strongly recommended.

Latvia has concluded tax conventions on the avoidance of double taxation with many countries, under which more favourable tax treatment could be possible. Therefore, if Latvia has a valid tax convention with the country of the potential non-resident investor, it would be advisable to also read its provisions. The procedure for application of the conventions has been determined by the Cabinet of Ministers of the Republic of Latvia on April 30, 2001 in Regulation no. 178 „Procedures for the application of international agreements on double taxation and tax relief for the prevention of tax evasion“.

Taxation of Securityholders who are natural persons

Natural persons - residents

For tax purposes, an individual shall be considered a resident of the Republic of Latvia where:

- (a) it permanently resides in the Republic of Latvia, or
- (b) it stays in the Republic of Latvia for more than 183 days within any 12-month period, or
- (c) it is a citizen of the Republic of Latvia employed abroad by the government of the Republic of Latvia.

In a case if an individual has close personal and economic relationships also with another country, a tax treaty concluded between the Republic of Latvia and this country has to be analysed. The tax treaty can hold specific provisions to determine a country of tax residence for the individual.

In accordance with the Law "On Personal Income Tax", interest income from Securities for individuals - residents are subject to a 20 percent tax withheld by the Issuer at the time of disbursement. Income from Securities expropriation is subject to a 20 percent tax, and in this case the tax is paid by the Distributor.

As a result, the Interest income from the Securities for natural persons - residents will be subject to 20 % Personal Income Tax that will be withheld by the Issuer before the Interest payment is made by the Issuer to the Securityholder. For the avoidance of doubt for the purposes of the application of the Personal Income Tax it shall be considered that the payment of Interest is made each time, when the Issuer pays the Interest to the Securityholder's investment account held with the Distributor irrespective of whether the Securityholder withdraws the respective amount or re-invests it further. The Issuer shall:

- Inform the State Revenue Service about the amount of Interest paid and the Personal Income Tax withheld (with respect to the Interest payments to the Securityholders) no later than the 15th date of the next calendar month following the Interest payment date.
- Withhold and pay the Personal Income Tax (with respect to the Interest payments to the Securityholders) to the State Revenue Service no later than the 23rd date of the next calendar month following the Interest payment date.

The capital gains from the sale of the Securities will be subject to 20% tax, but the tax would be payable by the individual him/herself.

Natural persons - non-residents

A natural person would be considered as a non-resident of Latvia for taxation purposes in all cases unless he/she is a tax resident of Latvia. Interest income from the Securities received by the non-resident individual is subject to a 5% withholding tax rate for investors who invest as private persons and are tax residents of EU/EEA. For other individual investors and those who have not confirmed tax residence and not investing as a private person 20% withholding tax rate is applied. According to the general practice the tax withheld in Latvia might be deducted from the tax payable by the investor in his/her residence country (as tax paid abroad). However, we recommend consulting with the respective country's tax administration or tax adviser to clarify the procedure and documents required to perform such a deduction (if any).

Taxation of Holders who are legal entities

Legal entities - residents

A legal person is considered to be a resident of Latvia for tax purposes if it has been established and registered or had it must be established and registered in the Republic of Latvia in accordance with the legislation of the Republic of Latvia. This applies also to permanent establishments of foreign companies in Latvia.

In accordance with the Corporate Income Tax Law, payments for Securities in public circulation, received by resident legal persons are not subject to withholding tax. Corporate income tax ("CIT") must be paid at the time of profit distribution. The CIT rate applicable to gross distributable earnings is 20 percent. CIT par the net amount of the profit distribution is determined by dividing the net amount by a factor of 0.8 (i.e. the effective tax rate net profit is 25 percent). Respectively, interest income on the Securities, as well as realised gains from their alienation includes a permanent establishment of a legal person - residents or non-residents of Latvia, taxable income. However, the taxation of those profits takes place only at the time of the distribution of the profits.

Legal entities - non-residents

In accordance with the Corporate Income Tax Law, interest income of non - resident legal entities and income from the alienation of the Securities in Latvia is not taxed, unless the recipient is in a low tax or in a tax-free country or territory in accordance with the Cabinet of Ministers of the Republic of Latvia 17 December, 2020 to Regulation No. 819 "Provisions for low-tax or tax free countries and territories".

XI. FORM OF FINAL TERMS

Set out below is the form of Final Terms which will be completed for each Series of Securities issued under the Base Prospectus. The completed Final Terms for each Series, which are described in Base Prospectus as the “Final Terms” will be published on the website www.viainvest.com

MIFID II PRODUCT GOVERNANCE

Solely for the purposes of the manufacturer’s product approval process, the target market assessment in respect of the Products has led to the conclusion that: (i) the target market for the Products is eligible counterparties, and professional clients and retail clients, each as defined in Directive 2014/65/EU, as amended (MiFID II) and all channels for distribution of the Products are appropriate, including investment advice, portfolio management, non-advised sales and pure execution services, subject to the distributor’s suitability and appropriateness obligations under MiFID II, as applicable. Any person subsequently offering, selling or recommending the Products (a “Distributor”) should take into consideration the manufacturer’s target market assessment; however, a distributor subject to MiFID II is responsible for undertaking its own target market assessment in respect of the Products (by either adopting or refining the manufacturer’s target market assessment) and determining appropriate distribution channels, subject to the distributor’s suitability and appropriateness obligations under MiFID II, as applicable. For the avoidance of doubt, the Issuer is not a manufacturer or distributor for the purposes of MiFID II.
